IRON AND STEEL WIRE ROPE

FOR MINING AND HOISTING PURPOSES,

Barbed Wire Fence!

—AND—

WIRE OF ALL KINDS.

ESTABLISHED 1857.

Office and Depot, 6 CALIFORNIA ST. SAN FRANCISCO.

SOLE PROPRIETOR OF THE

Patent Endless Ropeway

(Wire Tramway) for transporting Ores, etc., over mountainous places.

Mining Companies, Ferrymen and Shipmasters

re informed that Wire Rope can be furnished them considerably under the cost of Hemp or Manilla, of equal rength. Wire Rope does not stretch or shrink by change of weather. It weighs 40 per cent. less than Hemp, less than one-half the diameter; is easily spliced under all circumstances; is as pliable for equal strength; and from four to five times as durable as the best Hemp or Manilla Rope.

For Hoisting from Deep Mines, the economy of its application is immense.

NOTE.—STEEL WIRE ROPE weighs about six-tenths of Iron Rope, or one-third of Hemp of equal rength. Its extreme lightness saves largely in freight to remote places, and its great durability recommends for hoisting purposes, etc. See table of comparative weights, strength and sizes of Steel Wire Rope.		Iron Wire Rope.		Hemp Rope.		Working Load of each.

ENDLESS WIRE ROPEWAY,

(Wire Tramway), secured by numerous Patents.

By means of the Ropeway, ores, rock, and other material can be transported over mountainous and difficult ces, where it would be impossible or exceedingly expensive to build a road. It can deliver from five to fifty s per hour, according to capacity, and being carried upon posts, above snow and other obstructions, can be d when other modes of transportion would be impossible.

HARRY H. BODWELL, Proprietor.

CELSIOR Windmill.

EXCELSIOR Improved Windmill.

THE opinion has become quite prevalent that Windmills are not to be relied upon, either to withstand violent storms, or to perform their work in very light winds. Such opinion is doubtless true with regard to many of the mills made in California, and especially true with regard to most of those sent here from the East. It is, however, an injustice towards the few mechanics who have made wind-power a study and a specialty for many years, to class the productions of their labor with those of the many who pretend to be windmill makers, but who have comparatively little experience or practical knowledge of the business.

We were the inventors, more than ten years ago, of the single cross-vane windmill. The demand for them gradually increased, until they have come into more general use than any other mills. Of course, other parties were induced to make an imitation of them, and some to make use of its name, "Excelsior." A man is desirous of purchasing a windmill, and starts in pursuit of the factory. Presently he sees a sign, "WINDMILLS," walks in and inquires: "Is this the place where they make the Excelsior Windmill?" The answer is, "Yes, sir—O, yes, we make them," or words to that effect, and the gentleman really thinks he is purchasing an Excelsior. We have recently caused the name to be registered in the U. S. Patent Office, as our TRADE MARK, and hereby caution all persons not to make unlawful use of the same.

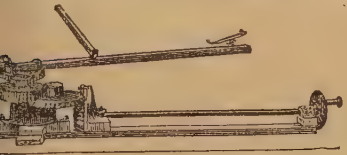
The Excelsior was awarded the first or cash premium at the Cal. State Agricultural Fair, in 1872—the only time ever exhibited there. It has taken a larger number of premiums at the Mechanics' Institute Fairs, in San Francisco, than any other Windmill.

We have of late made material improvements in their iction. They are adjustable and self regulating, are very substantially built, and with reasonable care will twenty-five to thirty years. Revolving horizontally upon anti-friction balls, enables them to catch the at breezes, and they will run in LIGHTER winds than any other mills, and violent storms very seldom them. They are always under perfect control, a child being able to operate them.

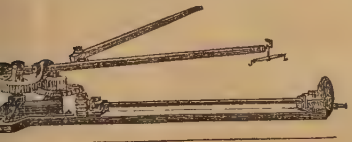
e cut, engraved from a photograph, represents the style and appearance of the improved or forty-fan LSIOR. They are made in twelve sizes, from twelve foot to forty-foot diameter of wheel. A larger stock sortment kept on hand than can be found in the State. Every mill fully guaranteed.

HORSE-POWERS.

LITTLE GIANT (2 Horses).



EXCELSIOR (1 Horse).



These machines are complete in every detail, and possess every improvement and advantage that can be combined in Sweep Horse-Powers. They have an advantage over any other horse-power in this market, viz: our application of the patent rubber draw-spring, which prevents any breakage of the gears by any sudden start, or jumping, or fractiousness of the horse; and when used for pumping, materially lessens the jerking motion on the lever, caused by the change of motion of the piston.

These Powers have dust-proof and self-oiling journals; are simple, strong, durable and cheap. Having succeeded in making them much superior to those which have been imported from the East, we have virtually stopped their importation.

We furnish with these Powers, when desired, any size of belt wheels, or style, or weight of balance wheels, combined with a movable crank-pin for pumping, and counter-balance when needed.

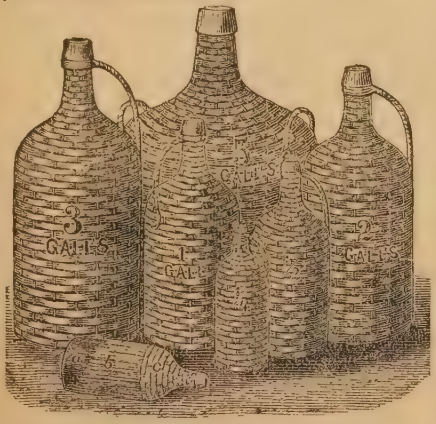
C. NEWMAN'S IMPROVED ELASTIC DEMIJOHN. (Patented January 26th, 1875.) By referring to the engraving in the foreground will be seen a bottle partially covered: a represents the glass, b the tule reed, and c the wicker-work. It will be seen that the bottle is first covered with the tule reed—a soft elastic substance—forming a cushion, on which the rattan is woven. By this means the bottle is doubly protected, and made doubly valuable from its immunity from breakage. Its advantages are so many and obvious, that it needs no argument to prove its merits. Those who use demijohns will see at once the superiority it possesses over all other covered bottles.



THE GROOVE RING FRUIT JAR.

Of the 96,238 references contained in the Register of Names in Bishop's Directory for 1878, there are over thousand that refer to Church Buildings, Engine Houses, Military Companies, School Buildings, Chinese L dries, etc., which are, with the exception of the Laundries, to be found elsewhere in Langley's Direc arranged under their proper heads. In Estimating the difference of the two Directories, this number shou added to the above figures, making the excess of Langley's Directory over Bishop's

10,952 REFERENCES.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

An estimate of the population of this city, copied from the so-called "opposition directory" for 1877, having been published, the compiler of the San Francisco Directory deems it his duty to call attention to the character and reliability of the data upon which its figures are based. In the issue of the work referred to, for 1876 (page 9), the number of references contained therein is stated to be 102,610; and in the volume for 1877 (page 37), an increase over the number in the previous issue is claimed of 6,220. These amounts aggregate 108,830, as the number of references in the volume for 1877. When the fact is stated that an actual count shows that the real number is 91,638, only 17,192 less than what is claimed, the public will be able to place a proper value upon any estimate of the population from that source. Another estimate of the population of this city, for 1878, has been published by the same authority which gives the number at 326,244, based on 98,031 (?) references, contained in their issue for 1878. If the figures of 1877, previously referred to, are correct, 295,117 population on 108,830 references, on what basis is the estimate of 1878 arrived at, viz.: a population of 326,700 on 98,031 references. These facts place the publication in the dilemma of having either attempted to justify the magnified figures of 1877, or having used a larger pro rata to sustain a defective canvass in 1878.

PREFATORY.

The present, the nineteenth, volume of THE SAN FRANCISCO DIRECTORY, will be found on examination to contain unusually large amount of valuable and useful information connected with the city, fully equal in thoroughness reliability to either of its predecessors.

The number of references contained in the present volume is one hundred and fifty-four thousand six hundred ninety, viz: Register of names, one hundred and five thousand one hundred and ninety (of which ninety-nine sand seven hundred and fifty are names of resident males). Business Directory, twenty-seven thousand five dred. Appendix, twenty-two thousand. The number of names of male residents in 1874 is sixty-five sand and ninety-two; 1875, seventy-seven thousand two hundred and six; 1876, ninety thousand six hundred thirty-three; 1877, one hundred thousand eight hundred and fifty; 1878, ninety-nine thousand seven hundred fifty, a decrease of eleven hundred since March 1, 1877. The population of this city is estimated, March 1, 1877, ree hundred and one thousand and twenty; February 1, 1878, three hundred and eight thousand two hundred fifteen, an increase for the eleven months ending January 31, 1878, of seven thousand one hundred and ninety- or 2.35 per cent. Although the figures of the adult male population show a slight decrease for the period ed, the estimates of the female adults and the males and females under twenty-one and eighteen, respect-, exhibit a gratifying increase. The article on population, on page 41, contains valuable data on this subject, hich attention is respectfully invited.

The number of buildings erected during the year ending January 31, 1878, is one thousand two hundred and , of which forty-two are of brick, at an aggregate cost of $9,000,000. If the amounts disbursed in improving the r front and public streets, and in beautifying our parks and private residences, be added, the aggregate amount mprovements of all kinds, for 1877–8, will exceed $11,000,000. In addition to several extensive blocks for busi- purposes completed during the year, a number of elegant and commodious private residences have been ted, which equal in beauty and cost those of former years. The total number of buildings comprised within the limits is twenty-eight thousand one hundred, of which four thousand four hundred and thirty are brick.

The expense of maintaining the Municipal Government for the year ending June 30, 1877, is $5,347,538, includ- the expenses of the Street Department. The Bonded Debt of the city, June 30, 1877, is $4,322,500 (less amount inking funds, $735,386). This amount does not include the Montgomery Avenue Bonds, $1,500,000, and the ont Street Improvement Bonds, $1,000,000.

The Introductory and General Review present a diary of interesting local events of the year, brief notices of ools, public and private, descriptions of Public Buildings, Hotels, Public Parks, and the operations of the dif- nt Railroads and Steamship Lines, together with references to several other subjects worthy of special mention, historical data of present interest, well calculated to make the book a valuable work of reference to future erations. But the most interesting features of this department are valuable contributions on the Population of City; Meteorology and Climate of San Francisco from 1851 to 1878, by Henry Gibbons, M.D.; the Current tory and Progress of the City; a Review of its Manufacturing interests, and operations of the Public Schools, 6–7; a Chronological History of the City for the year 1877; and a statement of the cost and number of buildings cted during the past year and the aggregate number within the city limits.

The Appendix contains a variety of valuable information connected with the different departments of the nicipal Government and the officers thereof. There will be also found in this department of the work a large nber of references to the different organizations in this city, embracing lists of the Federal, State, and Muni- al Officers, notices of local Societies and Associations, Churches, Military Organizations, Incorporations, etc. ention is invited to a new and corrected Map of the City and County of San Francisco, which for reliability beauty of execution has never been equaled on this coast, and a revised Street Directory, including the new tem of numbering the buildings, thoroughly revised, and carefully compared with each street and locality named rein.

The present volume of THE SAN FRANCISCO DIRECTORY has been printed from new material, cast expressly for purpose, by Miller & Richard, Edinburgh, and supplied through their agent in this city, Mr. John J. Palmer. A mple glance through its pages is only necessary to direct attention to a style of type which for beauty and sym- try it would be difficult to excel.

The compiler respectfully tenders his thanks to Gen. James Coey, Postmaster of this city, for his courteous istance during the progress of this work through the press. By his kindness, over nine thousand notices of new ivals, removals, etc., received at the Post Office, have been incorporated with the returns of the regular canvass, ereby securing a degree of completeness and accuracy for the work considerably in advance of previous years. would also express his acknowledgments for many favors extended by the different public officers, and her gentlemen who have been applied to for information for the work. To his numerous friends for their eral patronage, and to Messrs. Francis & Valentine, by whom the typographical department was executed, he uld especially tender his thanks. The twentieth volume of THE SAN FRANCISCO DIRECTORY will be issued in bruary, 1879.

PROGRESS OF THE CITY

1877–78.

CURRENT HISTORY.

In May, 1850, San Francisco was incorporated as a city. In July, 1856, the city and county governments were consolidated. The average width of the county, from bay to ocean, is four and a half miles by six and a half miles in length, from the Golden Gate to its southern line. Its entire area is 26,681 acres. The city occupies the northeast corner, and extends about three miles from east to west, by four miles from north to south. The peninsula on which the city is located is about thirty miles long by fifteen wide—the city and county occupying the northern end. The assessed value of property in the city and county, as shown by the Assessor's report for 1877–8, is: Real estate, $191,845,560; personal property, $62,894,640; total, $254,740,200. The expenditures for the City Government during the past fiscal year, ending June 30, 1877, was $5,105,264.20. The assessed value of property for the fiscal year 1876–7 was: Real estate and improvements, 0,221,003; personal, $70,041,340; total, $260,262,343. The value of property owned by city is $11,435,000. The rate of taxation for State, county and city purposes, for 1876–7, 2.12½, of 1877–8, 1.83.

Bonded Debt.—The bonds outstanding at the close of the fiscal year, June, 1877, were 322,500—from which should be deducted the amount of sinking fund on hand of same date, 5;386—exclusive of the bonds issued for the improvement of Montgomery Avenue, ounting to $1,500,000, for the payment of which the property directly benefited, valued 60,000,000, is pledged, and those issued for the widening of Dupont Street, amounting to 00,000, for which the property benefited is in like manner pledged.

General Progress.—The general progress of the city during the past year has not kept e with the ratio which has characterized the preceding years, yet, to the sanguine believer he future destiny of San Francisco, there can be nothing discouraging in this fact, having to contend with the results of a dry season, and consequent shortness of crops, such as the te has not known for years, coupled with an extraordinary depression in mining stock ues, calling for large investment of capital to enable holders to carry—the city has still ntained its onward progress. This too, in the face of the general stagnation, which over civilized world, has affected all commercial interests—and the volume of trade, as shown the statistical figures, exhibits very encouraging results. There has been a notable decrease he number of buildings constructed, as compared with the preceding year, but the char- er of improvements made, has been fully maintained. The most important structures of the r include the completion of the magnificent four-story building on Pine street, near Mont- nery, now the home of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, and the Real Estate Associates' r-story building in the same block, the erection of a splendid four-story iron front building the corner of Pine and Liedesdorff streets, known as Morrison's Building, a large five-story ne front building on the corner of Eddy and Powell streets, and the Metropolitan Temple on th, corner of Jessie. In addition to these, there has been several substantial and capacious iness houses on California, Drumm, Sansom, and Market streets, all in keeping with the iness demands of the times.

The completion during the year of the cluster of palatial mansions on Californea Street Hill, imparted to this portion of our city an appearance of oriental magnificence, while many tasty l expensive residences have been, and are now being constructed, on the line of Van Ness enue, and Jackson and Gough streets.

The blocks destroyed by the great fire of August 8th, on Drumm, between Clay and Jackson streets, have been almost entirely rebuilt, and of a character far surpassing, in solidity and tectural beauty, the buildings destroyed. During the past year the tendency so noticeal the improvements of the past few years, towards the use of the more durable materials, stone, and iron, has been fully maintained.

C. P. VAN SCHAACK & CO., 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, and 716 Kearny, Establish

Our street railroads, as will be seen by the detailed reports, are alive to the growing den of the city, and have made valuable additions to their mileage and equipment. Two new the most important of which is the California Street, have been opened, and two new line projected. Our streets are being extended with the demands of the city; our Parks are improved, and work upon those projected has been going on gradually, from all of whi will be seen that, although suffering under the incubus of an unfortunate year, the city been mindful of her future necessities, and fully maintained her reputation for progress.

In mining stock speculation there was during the year a terrible diminution, as comp with the figures of 1876, which is accounted for by the fact that the great depression of May forced about all the small dealers and marginal buyers out of the market. The r reported strike in Ophir has revived the general tone, and transactions for the coming look more promising. The aggregate transactions for the year amounted to nearly two hun millions of dollars, against about five hundred millions for 1876.

Trade and Commerce.

During 1877 our merchandise exports by sea amounted to $29,992,393; of which $13,33 was for flour, wheat, etc., to Great Britain, and about $1,000,000 for wheat to Belgium. total treasure exports amounted to $57,753,641—making a total of $87,746,044. Exports t Eastern States would make a gross total of over $100,000,000. These figures show a dec over the exports of 1876, of $1,322,389 in merchandise, and an increase of $7,963,505 in trea —making a total increase of $6,641,116 in the value of exports. This is the largest export since the opening of the port. The amount of treasure shipped is the heaviest of any ye the history of the port except the year 1856. Total number of vessels entered the Golden during the past year, nine hundred and eleven; total cleared, one thousand and twenty- Total import duties, $6,779,904; a decrease of $1,271,765 from 1876.

The receipt of treasure in this city, in 1877, was silver bullion $42,107,883; gold dust bars, $10,295,784; coin, $22,213,117; making a total value of $74,616,784. Being a total inc over 1876, of $5,558,186. The total Clearing House exchanges for the year was $517,030,3

The arrival of passengers by land were forty-seven thousand four hundred and thirty- by sea, seventeen thousand nine hundred and two; total, sixty-five thousand three hundred thirty-seven. The departures were, by land, thirty-one thousand two hundred and forty-n by sea, fifteen thousand seven hundred and seventeen; total, forty-six thousand eight hun and sixty-six, showing an increase of eighteen thousand four hundred and seventy-one. average increase for the last ten years is about thirty thousand. The arrivals and depart from and to China and Japan, since 1867, are as follows: Arrivals, one hundred and thirty thousand two hundred; departures, sixty-two thousand seven hundred; net gain, seventy- thousand five hundred.

Real Estate.*

During the year 1877 there were three thousand and eighty-five sales of real estate, of the value of $18,549,991. In 1876 there were three thousand eight hundred and forty sales, ag gating a total value of $24,058,666; a reduction in value of transfers of nearly $5,500,000, th reduction in number of sales being seven hundred and fifty-five. In the general character of s made, the same tendency which marked the transactions of the year 1876 has been observed, nam the purchase of small estates, by parties of moderate means, for homestead purposes. Notw standing the decrease in the volume of sales—which decrease may be attributed to the ge depression of business from the causes hereinbefore mentioned—there has generally been but sl reductions in prices, the only class of property suffering to any perceptible extent being fa residences, which, being wholly unproductive, always suffer most in times of financial stringe Holders of real-estate generally preferring the security it affords, have, however, been lot their offerings, while other securities were so uncertain. With the now assured prospect favorable agricultural year, a decided improvement may be reasonably anticipated, and the estate market again resume the activity of former years. This condition will, doubtless, stimulated by many parties of small means, who, frightened by the failures of our "mushro savings banks during the past year, will fly to real-estate investment as a refuge.

Business of the Year.—In the Fifty-vara section, four hundred and seventeen sales, of value of $5,354,097, were made in 1877, against five hundred and twenty-eight sales, of value of $7,516,060, in 1876. In the Hundred-vara section, between First, Ninth, Market Townsend streets, two hundred and twenty-six sales, of the value of $2,132,254, were mad 1877, against two hundred and eighty-one, of the value of $2,212,107, for 1876. In the Slip and Water Lot section, lying between Sansom, First and the Bay, Broadway and B nan streets, there were forty-eight sales, of the value of $1,468,053, against seventy-one, of value of $2,692,322, for 1876. On the Potrero there were hundred and sixteen sales, of the value of $397,446, against one hundred and forty-one, of value of $468,925, in 1876. In the Mission Addition there were eleven hundred and twen- even sales, of the value of $3,294,611, against thirteen hundred and five, of the value of 93,354, in 1876. In the Western Addition there were seven hundred and twenty-seven s, of the value of $4,970,829, against nine hundred and seventy-six, of the value of $5,457,- , for 1876. In South San Francisco there were one hundred and three sales, of the value of 9,224, against one hundred and thirty-two, of the value of $195,601, in 1876. There were hundred and eleven sales of outside lands, of the value of $628,563, against two hundred forty-seven, of the value of $1,099,881, in 1876. There were one hundred and one sales ax and cloudy titles, aggregate value $82,814, against one hundred and fifty-four, of the ue of $111,521. It will be seen from these figures that the aggregated values of sales in h class of real estate was smaller in 1877 than in the previous year; that the largest falling was in the Fifty-vara section, the decrease amounting to $2,161,963 in this class. That in y one class, the North Beach property, was there an increase in the number of sales, and t in this section the nine sales of 1877 aggregated $209,517 less than the six sales of 1876. at the total number of sales in 1877 was 755 less than that of 1876, and the decrease of ag- gated values of the sales of 1877, as compared with those of the previous year, amounted to 508,675.

PROPERTY VALUES.—The most valuable and choice residence property in the city is that in district bounded by California, Market, Powell, and Leavenworth streets, although it is e to say that this district has suffered a depreciation of from twenty to twenty-five per cent. ring the year. In 1876 lots here were held at from $300 to $500 per front foot. The second best to residence location, according to Magee's Real Estate Circular, is in the district between rkin Street, Van Ness Avenue, Clay, and Turk streets, which is held at from $125 to $200 front foot. In the Western Addition, in the vicinity of Eddy, Haight, Laguna, Devisadero, ler, McAllister, and Fillmore streets, land is worth from $100 to $130 per front foot. Mis- n lands, excepting on Valencia, Howard and Mission streets, are reported almost unsalable l not in demand; also, the same stagnation prevails in lands on South Beach, the Potrero, l South San Francisco. The completion of the shore line of the Southern Pacific Railroad ll be of great benefit to that portion of the city, and that event is looked forward to with eat interest by its residents. Land on the best banking and financial streets is said to be rth from $3,000 to $3,500 per front foot; on the best wholesale streets, from $1,250 to $1,500 r front foot; in the best retail sections on Kearny and Market streets, from $2,300 to $3,000 r front foot.

Outlook for 1878.

The indications for 1878 promise to at least maintain the figures of the past year. The ilding associations have fully as much construction in progress, and the demand for resi- nces is improving, sales in all cases being readily effected. The Western Addition is still e more favored locality. The Mission Addition ranking next.

The banks having still further reduced the rate of interest—money in large sums being now tainable at seven per cent., and it is expected that the volume of money loaned on mortgages ll fully equal those of the past year, which was the largest ever known to the city. This ct, in conjunction with the present cheapness of materials, must operate as a great stimulus on the work of the coming year.

New Buildings, 1877-78.

The number of new buildings erected during the year is about twelve hundred and fifty.* f this number forty-two are of brick, in which is included the substantial brick block on Mar- et Street, between California and Pine, and running through to California, intended for com- ercial purposes, the estimated cost of which is $200,000; the new German Hospital; the build- g on the corner of Powell and Eddy, opposite Baldwin's Hotel; the elegant line of three and ur-story blocks on the east side of Dupont Street, between Bush and Market; several large id commodious private mansions on Clay and California Street hills, and on Van Ness Avenue, id a number of large buildings for business purposes in the commercial center of the city. he aggregate value of these improvements is estimated at $9,000,000.

NUMBER OF BUILDINGS.—The number of buildings in the city and county is estimated at venty-eight thousand one hundred, of which four thousand four hundred and thirty are of brick. he Federal Census of 1870 returns the aggregate number at twenty-two thousand two hundred id sixty-six.

Real Estate Associations.

To a stranger's eye one of the most attractive features of San Francisco is the many rows id blocks of tasteful residences that are to be seen in our suburbs. When informed that iese handsome, two-story, bay-window dwellings belong wholly, or in part, to those who ccupy them, one is both surprised and pleased. Such tokens of thrift and prudence afford

* The returns of the Spring Valley Water Works for the year ending December 31, 1877, show that one thousand o hundred and thirty-five new taps were made, and it is estimated that the number of new buildings from which o orders were received, will more than overbalance the orders from old ones.—COMPILER.

visitors a most favorable impression of the character of our citizens. On the part of perman residents, these homesteads are sure guarantees of good citizenship and honest governme Perhaps it would be hardly possible to estimate the benefits, immediate or direct, present prospective, that have already resulted or will hereafter ensue from the efforts of the R Estate Associates, or "Town Builders," as they are popularly styled, to transform the sar wastes outside the business part of the city into habitable sites for dwelling-places. Th have covered these barren tracts with homesteads, which have been sold to buyers on the p ment of a certain amount of cash, and the remainder is liquidated by a monthly rental o stated sum. By this means communities have been organized, where isolation would proba have prevailed for years. Such neighborhoods, composed of frugal and industrious peop give additional value to adjoining land and invite corresponding settlement. To this Assoc tion too much praise cannot be given for their labor and energy in the great work of build up this city. The company was originally started for buying and selling unimproved real tate. It began with a capital of $120,000; but it now has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000, a a large and flourishing business. Although its primary object was to make money, the m agement has always been noted for integrity and faithfulness in all its transactions. The id of building homes and selling them by monthly installments, covering a period of from one ten years, originated with William Hollis, the president and manager of the institution sin its incorporation. Under his direction, upward of two thousand houses have been erect and as many families have been furnished with comfortable homes. This gentleman belie that the success of the company is due in a great measure to their giving each buyer full retu for his money, compared with the market values at the time of purchase. Mr. Hollis sta that he does not build a house simply to sell it. He proposes to give a perfect house, whet it cost $1,500 or $15,000. The company makes a rule to build only on their own land, a positively decline to take contracts to build for lot-owners, although daily requested to do All the mechanical work of the Associates is done by day labor, under the immediate sup intendence of J. B. Gonyeau, who is acknowledged to be as competent a master mechanic can be found on the coast. Plans, elevations, and working drawings are prepared by John Remer, the well-known architect of Baldwin's Hotel, who is regularly employed by the co pany. The pay-roll in busy seasons reaches $10,000 weekly, distributed among some four hu dred mechanics.

The crowning work of the Real Estate Associates during the year 1877 was the completi of one of the finest edifices on Montgomery Street, in which the offices of the company a now situated. Although surrounded by some of the most stately and valuable structu on this important thoroughfare, the R. E. A. Building stands conspicuously prominent, fitting monument to the taste and judgment of the owners. This property alone is wor $250,000. Owing to general business depression the past year, the company have made b few purchases, although their customary outlay for land has ranged between $1,500,000 a $2,000,000 annually. About $500,000 is spent each year for lumber, $180,000 for mill wor $120,000 for plumbing, $30,000 for paints and oils, $24,000 for glass, and about $36,000 f hardware. The outlook for 1878 is considered very hopeful, and little doubt is entertain that the business of the present year will be much in excess of that of the past.

The financial condition of the concern is represented to be better than at any period its history—a fact that will be as gratifying to all who have the welfare of the city heart, as it undoubtedly is to all stockholders in The Real Estate Associates.

The Mechanics' Real Estate Association was incorporated September 16th, 1876, with capital of $1,000,000. D. L. McDonald is president. During the year 1877 forty-five hous were built by this association, and of these all but ten have been sold, the average price bei $4,500. The managers of the institution anticipate a large increase of building during t coming year.

In addition to the above, there are several other building and real-estate association including the California Real Estate Association, the San Francisco Real-Estate Associate and the County Real Estate Associates. These also do considerable business on either t cash or installment plan.

Street Improvements.

The report of the Superintendent of Streets for the last fiscal year, shows that the length sewers constructed during that time was 103,136 feet, or nearly twenty miles, and about s miles more than have been constructed in any one previous year. The city now has upwa of one hundred and ten miles of sewers in working order. The cost of the work on sew during the year is as follows: Brick sewers, $346,784.85; Iron-stone-pipe sewers, $59,654.2 Cement-pipe sewers, $64,430.74; redwood sewers, $26,953.67; total: $497,823.55. The were 1,028,014 square feet of paving laid, the cost of which was $361,959.38. This (with t exception of 212,765 square feet of cobbles and carbonized brick pavement, amounting $2,127.65), was basalt and granite blocks. The entire cost to owners of property by stre work during the year was $1,862,194.81. Of this sum $1,325,255.78 was for permane improvement of public streets. The cost of grading streets was $478,948.09. Street-sweepi and sewer-cleaning cost respectively $40,851.50 and $13,608.57. The expense of lighting t streets, etc., was $275.686.85. notice being served only after a deputy had made a personal examination of the street nst which complaint was made. During the year Montgomery Avenue was placed in good lition for travel as far as Filbert Street, and the Superintendent urges its further extension he Bay, as soon as possible. He also recommends that one of the main streets leading to Golden Gate Park shall be dedicated to that travel, and put in good condition at an early . He further suggests that no more streets east of Van Ness Avenue be macadamized, and t Montgomery, and all important business streets, should be paved with some noiseless ement.

Public Buildings.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE is located in the brick building on the corner of Washington and Battery eets, erected in 1855, at a cost of $866,000. The operations of this important department of public service are referred to elsewhere in this article.

THE UNITED STATES MINT.—Among the Government buildings of San Francisco the ited States Mint is among the most elegant and imposing. It is built of granite and sand- ne, and conveniently situated at the northwest corner of Mission and Fifth streets, with a ntage of one hundred sixty and one-half feet on the former and two hundred seventeen and -half feet on the latter. It is two stories in height, besides an ample basement. The apet walls are fifty-six feet high, the pediment seventy-five, and its two chimneys each one ndred and forty-two feet. Its architecture is Doric. Massive fluted columns at the main rance on Fifth Street give to the building an air of beauty and grandeur, and relieve the ubre aspect of its severe simplicity. The coinage during the year was as follows: Gold— ble eagles, one million seven hundred and thirty-five thousand, value $34,700,000; eagles, enteen thousand, value $170,000; half eagles, twenty-six thousand seven hundred, value 3,500; quarter eagles, thirty-five thousand four hundred, value $88,500; total gold, one llion eight hundred and fourteen thousand one hundred pieces, valued at $35,092,000. ver—trade dollars, $9,519,000; half dollars, five million three hundred and fifty-six thousand, lue $2,678,000; quarter dollars, eight million nine hundred and ninety-six thousand, value ,249,000; dimes, two million three hundred and forty thousand, value $234,000; total silver, enty-six million two hundred and eleven thousand pieces, valued at $14,680,000. Total ld and silver coined, twenty-eight million twenty-five thousand one hundred pieces, valued $49,772,000. The refining department at the Mint went into operation in 1875. It has a pacity of about one million ounces per month. The charges for refining are: Three hundred rts gold and less, two and one-half cents; three hundred and a half parts gold to six hundred ousand, four cents; six hundred and a half parts gold to seven hundred and fifty thousand, cents; seven hundred and fifty parts gold and over, eight cents. The present Superintend- t of the Mint, Mr. Henry L. Dodge, entered upon his duties January 1, 1878. Under his ministration the force of employees has been considerably reduced, there being now two ndred and thirty men and women engaged there, against two hundred and fifty during last ar.

THE UNITED STATES SUB-TREASURY is a substantial four-storied structure which has cently been erected on Commercial Street, near Montgomery, on the land formerly occupied the old Mint. It has been constructed under the superintendence of Mr. Samuel McCul- ugh, and is on a plan of architecture similar to that of the United States Appraiser's Build- g. The walls are built of pressed brick laid on granite sills. The building was completed rly in the Autumn of 1877, and was transferred to the Sub-Treasury Department October h of that year. The original plan was for a three-story building, and the estimated cost out $87,000. It was subsequently decided to add another story, making the total cost of e structure $101,500. The amount appropriated for it was $107,000. The first floor is cupied by the Sub-Treasury; the second by the Register and Receiver of the General Land ffice; the third and fourth by the United States Surveyor-General.

THE UNITED STATES APPRAISER'S BUILDING is now almost completed. It stands on the rtheast corner of Washington and Sansom streets, extending on Sansom Street two hundred d sixty-five and one-half feet front, and running from Washington to Jackson Street one hun- red and twenty and one-half feet. It is a handsome four-story structure. The basement nine feet and three inches in the clear. The walls rest on a solid concrete base, which ex- nds under the whole structure. The construction of the building is under the superinten- ence of Mr. Samuel McCullough, Superintendent of Construction of United States Buildings California. It is now ready to receive its roof, which will be of copper and slate, and has ready been contracted for. The basement and first floor will be used as the United States ppraiser's stores. The second and third floors will be occupied by the United States Courts. ongress has thus far appropriated $633,000 for this structure. About $250,000 more is needed complete the work. Should this sum be appropriated during the present session of Congress, e building can be completed in eight months after the money is available.

THE POST OFFICE.—The growth of San Francisco has been so rapid during the past five ears that the capacity of all public buildings has been tested to their fullest extent; especially as this been the case with the Post Office, and the necessity of securing a new building for this nportant institution is daily becoming more pressing. For many years the operations of the ffice in this city have been hampered by reason of the inadequate amount of room provided, and although extensions and additions have from time to time been made, these in no w have been proportioned to the constantly growing bulk of the mails. A great relief of the n office has been effected by the establishment of branch offices or stations in various parts of city. These are growing in favor, and as the multiplication of facilities is accompanied b corresponding increase in the lines of business affected by them, it is probable that the cap ties of these branches may be increased as well as additional ones established according to requirements of this fast growing city. The stations are open from eight o'clock A. M. to ei o'clock P. M., and are of great convenience to persons who cannot attend to their postal aff in the day time. The free delivery by carriers, which virtually brings the Post office to ev one's house, had its beginning in this city in November, 1869, when it was introduced by G Coey, who then, as now, occupied the position as postmaster, The number of carriers at t time was seventeen. Since then the service has so expanded, that the force now numbers fo five. Two hundred and fifty street letter-boxes are conveniently distributed throughout city, and are gradually growing into the confidence of those for whose benefit they were tended. The boxes are usually attached to street lamp-posts, and are uniformly painted gre They are fastened with the best possible lock,.and bear a printed card indicating the time times the contents are collected, which in every case is at least once per day. The follow statistics will give some idea of the business transacted by the office for the year ending Dece ber 31, 1877: Mail letters delivered, one million three hundred and forty-four thousand sev hundred and thirty-five; drop letters delivered, one million eight hundred and seven thousa one hundred and sixty; mail postal cards delivered, two hundred and seventy-nine thousa nine hundred and eighty-four; city postal cards delivered, nine hundred and seven thousa seven hundred and sixty; papers delivered, one million five hundred and eighty-one thousa and thirty-three; mail letters collected, four million seven hundred and twenty-five thousa one hundred and forty; drop letters collected, one million thirty-six thousand five hundre postal cards collected, seven hundred and twelve thousand; papers collected, eight hundr and fifty-six thousand; receipts for local postage, $54,357. The daily average of the numb of pieces (letters, postal cards, newspapers, and packages of merchandise) originating in t office was thirty-eight thousand nine hundred and two, weighing four thousand four hundr and twenty-nine pounds. A comparison of these statistics with those of the offices in oth large cities indicate that the office at San Francisco ranks fourth, or possibly third, in point importance, of those in the United States. This position is due not only to what may be call the local business transacted here, but also to the fact that this is the point of distribution f a great portion of the European open and closed mails in transit to Asia, Australia, etc. Oce steamers for Japan and China depart twice a month; for Australia and Islands in Oceanica on in each month; to the Hawaiian Islands, British America, Alaska, Mexico, West Coast of Ce tral and South America, more or less frequent. During the year 1877, the weight of mails se to Japan, China, and the East Indies was thirty-three thousand three hundred and sixty-fi pounds. The weight of mails received from those countries during the same period was twent seven thousand one hundred and eighty-five pounds. The weight of mails sent to Australi New Zealand, etc., etc., was fifty-nine thousand and fifty-two pounds. The weight of ma received from those places was sixteen thousand two hundred and ninety-eight pounds. T through mail from Great Britain to Australia, was two hundred and forty thousand pound The through mail from Australia to Great Britain was one hundred and eighty-nine thousa pounds. During the year above mentioned, sixty-five thousand one hundred and forty-five re istered letters were sent, and seventy-four thousand two hundred and ninety-eight were r ceived at this office. During the year 1877 the number of money orders issued from the ma office was twenty-seven thousand five hundred and thirty-five, amounting to $676,153.05; fro Station A, seven hundred and fifty-six, amounting to $16,648.87; from Station B, three tho sand six hundred and twenty-three, amounting to $77,526.41; from Station C, six hundred an nine, amounting to $9,836.26. Money orders were paid as follows: Main office, thirty-o thousand four hundred and twenty-four, amounting to $825,707.01; from Station A, thirty eight, amounting to $861.74; Station B, eighty-four, amounting to $1,814.99; from Station C eight, amounting to $180.

The Post Office is located at the corner of Washington and Battery streets. The branc offices are situated as follows: Station A at 1305 Polk Street, and embraces the tract west Taylor and north of Geary to Cemetery Avenue. Station B at the southwest corner of Sevent and Market, it embraces the tract south of Market from Third to Thirteenth; that west Stockton and south of Geary to Cemetery Avenue, the Potrero, and South San Francisco Station C at the northeast corner of Twentieth and Mission streets; it includes all the territor from Thirteenth to Twenty-sixth street, and that from the Potrero to Church Street. Genera James Coey is Postmaster, Mr. William C. Dougherty is his first Assistant Postmaster. The are ably supported by a staff—exclusive of letter-carriers—of fifty-four persons, ten of tha number being ladies.

The United States Marine Hospital is situated at Mountain Lake, on the Presidi Reservation, near the junction of California Street. The nearest point to the hospital no reached by the street cars, is Cemetery Avenue. The hospital, with its improvements, wa built at a cost of $80,000. rgeon in charge, office 715 Clay Street, corner of Kearny, where permits for admission

HE ARMY, NAVY, ETC.—The military and other offices of the Federal service, numbering al scores in all, are not accommodated in any government building especially provided for , but occupy rented offices in the most convenient locations available.

TATE BUILDINGS OR OFFICES.—Although several state officials necessarily have their offices is city, the State has not yet provided any special building for their accommodation. The us Commissioners, Inspectors, and Agents, rent offices as convenient as possible to the ctive locations of their several occupations. Should the reader have any special desire to where these are he can easily ascertain by referring to the proper place in the general tory.

UNICIPAL BUILDINGS.—Of these the most important is the City Hall. In this are the us municipal offices, with exception of that of the Recorder, which have already been ferred to the new city capitol. The building at present occupied by the municipal author-stands on the southwest corner of the block bounded by Washington, Montgomery, Merch-and Kearny streets. It was one of the first large buildings erected in the early pioneer
. It is badly ventilated, poorly lighted, and in every way inadequate. Many of its offices, ever, will soon have accommodations in the new City Hall.

HE OLD CITY HALL, long familiar to every resident for any considerable time, occupies the hwest corner of the block bounded by Washington, Montgomery, Merchant, and Kearny ets. It is brick, stuccoed. For inconvenience of arrangement and insufficiency of accomation it stands pre-eminent. Several of the entrances are blind and roundabout, and few, ny of them, are broad or light enough. Many of the important offices are exceedingly inenient in themselves, both with regard to their situation relatively to each other, as well r ready access by the general public. In addition to these objections, they are ill-lighted poorly ventilated.

HE NEW CITY HALL.—This building when completed will not only be the largest and t durable structure in the city, but it is believed will be by far the largest edifice of this ription in the United States. It is located upon a triangular plot of ground bounded by kin Street, McAllister Street, and City Hall Avenue, a site which though now somewhat reed from the business portion of the city, will doubtless be found most convenient, should city continue its rapid spread, by the time the building is finally completed. The main t of the structure is on City Hall Avenue, and measures eight hundred feet. The main ding consists of a series of pavillions which are adorned with Corinthian pilasters and cols forty-eight feet in height. At each end of the principal front is one of these pavillions, le in the center is the almost semi-circular portico which forms the principal entrance on y Hall Avenue. The Hall of Records, which forms almost a separate building, is a circular icture at the eastern extremity of the edifice. When the hall is completed it will have a itage of five hundred and fifty feet on Larkin Street and six hundred and fifty feet on Allister Street. On the Larkin Street front will be a portico one hundred and twenty-two long, with towers, each a hundred and fifty feet high on either side. From either end of McAllister Street front will be projected wings, each one hundred and forty feet in length, losing three sides in an oblong square. The main tower of the building will be over the ncipal entrance; it will measure about two hundred and seventy feet in height, and be enty feet square. The entrance from City Hall Avenue leads directly to a large circular l eighty feet in diameter and one hundred and five feet high. From this lead numerous ridors to the various halls and offices. The basement of the building contains a story twelve l one-half feet high, which will be used as the city prison. Above this is the ground floor, enty feet high, and next above is the principal floor of the building, which will be mainly upied by the courts, the several halls being each thirty-four feet high. During the past r considerable progress has been made in the erection of the building, and the interior of eastern wing, and that part which forms the center of the McAllister Street frontage, begin give some idea of the appearance which will be presented when these are completed.

The work of finishing the interior of the Hall of Records was completed in the Spring of 77, and the Recorder's office was removed thereto in May. The Hall of Records is a circular ifice, eighty-six feet in internal diameter and ninety-five feet in external diameter. It is rrounded by a wide arcade, which increases the diameter to one hundred and thirty-two feet er all, and surmounted by a dome, rising to a height of one hundred and thirty-four feet.
at portion of the main building fronting on McAllister Street, and selected to be first com-arly finished. In the Treasurer's office a large coin vault is in course of construction. It is liabilities on contracts already awarded, has thus far been $2,371,000. Of this $1,525,000 w expended by the first Board of Commissioners and the Board of Supervisors, and $846,000 the present Board of Commissioners. The further cost of completing the edifice and its grou is estimated by the architect at $1,879,000, making its total cost when finished $4,250,0

The final completion of the immense structure is expected to occupy several years, though t rapidity with which the work will be prosecuted will depend to a great extent upon the app priation of the necessary funds.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.—This is a reformatory institution to which ungovernable boys are co mitted, either on complaint of the officers of the law, or, as it often happens, at the request of t parents or guardians of the refractory youths. It is located on the San Jose Road, about miles southwest of the City Hall, and is designed to accommodate two hundred and fifty boy During the year ending July 1, 1877, there were two hundred and sixty-six commitments—unusually large number. The ages of the inmates range from children of nine years to lads eighteen, the greatest number being from ten to seventeen. Leading an idle and dissolute l is the charge against the greater portion, and of these about one quarter were committed at t request of their parents or guardians. The boys at the institution are compelled both to wo and study, four hours per day being devoted to the former, and four and a quarter hours the latter. Some are taught various useful trades, and a large number are employed in farmi and gardening—seventy-five acres, of the one hundred and thirty which compose the ground being under cultivation. The school-room will seat two hundred boys. The work done he during the past year is reported unusually good, and much interest is taken by a considerab number of the lads in the school exercises. Some additions have been made during the pa year by donations to the library, which now contains about one hundred and fifty volumes.

THE HOUSE OF CORRECTION is situated on the San Jose Road, on the lot occupied also b the Industrial School. The building, which is composed of brick and stone, was completed i 1874, and cost about $120,000. The central portion is octagonal in form. Here is the res dence of the Superintendent. Attached are two wings, containing in all two hundred cell each capable of accommodating two prisoners. Should it be necessary, three other wings ca be added, with accommodation for one thousand inmates. The cells are furnished for thr hundred and ninety-four prisoners, with three dark cells, for the purpose of punishment. Th House of Correction is designed as a place where able-bodied criminals can be compelled t undergo hard labor. It was first used for the purpose for which it was built, in Septembe 1876. Since that time up to the end of the fiscal year there were thirty-three convicts com mitted to it. Several large workshops have been built for the prisoners, all of whom ar required to perform manual labor for eight hours each day. There is also a hospital an chapel.

THE CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL is situated on a ten-acre plot of ground, in the souther portion of the city, bounded by Potrero Avenue and Nevada, Sierra, and Nebraska streets
The main entrance is on Potrero Avenue. The buildings of the hospital, which has accom modations for three hundred and eighty-four patients, comprise the administrative and dinin halls, each wooden buildings, three stories in height, and situated opposite each other in th centre of the block, a kitchen and laundry, gate-house, stable, morgue, operating rooms, etc.
besides six long, two-story wooden pavilions, used as hospital wards. Each of these is capabl of accommodating sixty-four patients, besides nurses and attendants. Between the admistrati and dining hall buildings extends a long, covered corridor. Should the wants of the hospita require it, it is designed to erect twelve additional pavillions on either side of this corridor and parallel with the main building, giving accommodation to several hundred additiona patients. During the year ending July 1, 1877, there were three thousand and twelve patient admitted to the hospital.

THE CITY AND COUNTY ALMS HOUSE occupies a portion of the old San Miguel Ranch distant about six miles from the City Hall, and within sight of Lake Honda. The Alm House consists of a large four-story building, having a frontage of one hundred and sixty seven feet, with wings at the northern and southern extremities, each fourty-four by seventy three and one-half feet. It was opened September 12, 1867, and has accommodations for fiv hundred inmates. During the time that it has been in operation it has afforded comfort and shelter to four thousand five hundred and seventy-two persons. During the last fiscal yea five hundred and sixty-one were admitted, and at the close of the year there were four hun and forty-one remaining. The number of inmates is frequently largely in excess of the ber which the building was originally designed to accommodate, and an enlargement of uilding to meet its increased wants is urged. The cost of maintaining the institution for ast fiscal year was $59,784.30; the average yearly cost for each inmate being $139.61, and laily cost of each, 38¼ cents. The institution is under the charge of M. J. Keating. Dr. . Gerry is the resident physician.

THE COUNTY JAIL is situated in an old building on Broadway, near Kearny Street. For ral years it has been too small to accommodate the number of prisoners committed to it, on this account a branch has been established in the old County Hospital building at the er of Francisco and Stockton streets, where all the female, and a portion of the male pris- s are confined. Notwithstanding this increase of accommodations, the County Jail con- ed so overcrowded as to be a dangerous place for its inmates, and to obviate this, the Sheriff ng the past year has been authorized to take charge of the House of Correction, and trans- to that institution a part of the prisoners sentenced to the County Jail, in order to prevent vercrowding of the latter.

THE CITY PRISON, situated in the basement of the City Hall, at the corner of Kearny and shington Streets, is probably the most inadequate of all our city institutions, and it is btful if a more noisome, foul and loathesome place is used in any city of the Union for the ention of persons charged with crime. The prison consists of one long corridor, opening which are several large cells, in each of which a score of prisoners are confined at once. the upper end of the corridor are several rows of smaller cells, which two or three prisoners occupy at a time. The whole place is damp and almost without ventilation. During the fiscal year twenty-one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine arrests were made. During time twenty-seven murders were committed; there were three cases of manslaughter, ty-six arrests were made for murder, of which four resulted in a verdict of justifiable icide. Seventy-five suicides are also reported. The police force during the year consisted ne hundred and fifty-four men. Its increase is now warmly advocated by many of our zens.

Street Railroads.

CALIFORNIA STREET RAILROAD.—This company was organized August, 1876, with a fran- e to run from Kearny, through California to First Avenue, a distance of three miles. Plans e prepared in March, 1877, orders were given for the rail April 13th, 1877, and ground was ken for the immediate construction of the road July 5th, 1877, from which time the work prosecuted with great energy up to the middle of December, when the last rail of the first ion of the road, from Kearny to Fillmore, was completed. This section of the road was ned for passenger traffic January 28th, 1878. The value of this grand improvement to the , as also to the engineering profession, is incalculable, affording, as it does, facilities for inter- nsit from the business portion of the city to our most desirable residence localities, the ues of which have already appreciated, in many cases, one hundred per cent.; and to the ineering profession, as presenting the solution of many untried mechanical appliances, and construction of the best road bed for street transit known to the world. The rails are of l, and connected by fish joints, like the T rail. The ribs, which serve as ties, are made from ail iron, turned bottom up, and bent to a curve, so as to pass under the tube, which encloses cable; these are about four feet apart, and rest upon a solid and continuous concrete, the crete being carried up so as to form the sides of the cable tubes, and the foundation of the et-paving between the track. No wood whatever was used in the construction of the d bed. At Kearny and Fillmore streets, underground excavations walled up with solid sonry, each sixty feet long, contain the automatic tightening gear for the cable, which takes not only the occasional slacking, but any permanent stretching which may occur. The d crosses two ranges of hills, the summits being at Jones and Octavia streets; between the , at the crossing of Larkin, and in the centre of California street, is located the engine and ving machinery, to receive which, excavations were required thirty-one feet in depth, one ndred and ten feet in length, and thirty feet in width. The engines and boilers are located under sidewalk and company's building, corner of Larkin and California, the whole being sur- nded and surmounted by solid masonry, the magnitude of which can only be appreciated by se conversant with works of like character. There are two engines of five hundred horse ver each, and are so arranged that either can be used, or both at once, if required. The le is in two parts, each about nine thousand feet long, and weighs forty-three thousand five ndred pounds. It is made of flexible steel wire, one and a quarter inches in diameter, and was nufactured by A. S. Hallidie of this city. The company's building is three stories in height, l has a frontage of eighty feet on California, and seventy feet on Larkin. The cars and mmies are stored in the basement and third story, and are raised or lowered by an elevator. e building has a capacity for eighty cars and dummies; here also are located the offices of the mpany. The company now has twenty-five cars seating sixteen persons, and twenty-five mmies seating eighteen persons each. The cars and dummies are of a new and elegant pattern— dummies having springs to relieve them from all jolt, and are as attractive for passengers as the s. Everything pertaining to the construction of the road, rolling stock, and equipment, was nufactured by Pacific Slope mechanics, except the steel rail, made by the Cambria Works,

The round from Kearny to Fillmore and return will be made in twenty minutes; fare five cents.

SUTTER STREET RAILROAD.—This company has now fifteen and two thirds miles of dou track, over which cars run from 5:20 A.M. to 12 P.M. The route over this road is as follo Commencing at the foot of Market Street, thence along Market to Sutter, along Sutter to P Polk to Vallejo, Vallejo to Octavia, Octavio to Union, Union to Steiner, Steiner to Greenwi Greenwich to Baker, Baker to Harbor View; from crossing of Polk and Pacific Avenue, al Pacific Avenue to Fillmore; from crossing of Bush and Polk, along Bush to Fillmore, Fillm to California, California to Cemetery Avenue, Cemetery Avenue to Point Lobos Road; fr crossing of Larkin and Sutter, along Larkin to Market, Market to Ninth, Ninth to Missi Mission to Fourteenth. The company was incorporated in 1863, began work September 1865, and on May 1, 1866, the first cars, each drawn by two horses, were run from Sans and Sutter streets to Broadway and Polk streets. At that time the company had six c and twenty-five horses. Now it has fifty-one cars, ten dummies, one hundred and eighty-o horses, and one steam motor. About sixty-eight horses are in constant use, and $5,000 a y is expended in purchase of stock. The service of a horse is estimated on this line at four yea The average daily receipts since steam was applied was about $650 up to date of reduction fare to five cents, and is at present about $520. The average daily expense, including w and tear, is closely estimated at $450. From July, 1871, to April, 1873, thirteen dividends $2,000 each were paid, aggregating $26,000, about one half per cent. a month; from Apr 1873, to June, 1874, six dividends were paid, of $2,000 each, amounting to about four and o ninth per cent. per year; and from January, 1874, to January, 1876, eight dividends w declared, of $2,500 each, which would be about one and a half per cent. on the amount th invested. The books of the company now show that the road pays but one eighth of one p cent. per month on the capital invested in the enterprise. The cars of this line are drawn ov the steep grades of Sutter Street by an endless wire cable, covering that portion of their li on Sutter between Sansom and Larkin, which cable is worked by two engines of forty hor power each, located at the corner of Bush and Larkin. Cars are transferred from the cable horse-power, so as to obviate the necessity of changing cars at the termini of the cable. Sin the cable has been used on Sutter and the steam motor on Union Street to Harbor View, t road has paid monthly dividends of $4,000—about one per cent. per month on investme With the fare at five cents as now established, the company estimate that no more dividen can be paid, except by discontinuing all the branch lines, or by operating the entire line steam, it being the experience of this company that while the cable has proved much superi to horses, the steam motor discounts both methods for economy and speed.

THE CITY RAILROAD CO., commonly called "Woodward's," from the name of its princip if not exclusive, owner, or "Mission Street," from the name of the street upon which most its property lies, owns and operates one double track, main line—"The Mission Route"—fr the corner of Steuart and Mission streets, straight along the latter to Twenty-sixth Street, distance of three miles; and one branch line—"The City Route"—double track, from Twentie through Mission, Fifth, Market, Dupont, and Sutter streets, to the Oakland Ferry. This line noted for having first introduced the "bob-tail," or light, one-horse car, seating but fourtee having no conductor, but requiring each passenger to deposit his own fare or ticket—whi he obtains of the driver through a small brass gate swinging horizontally in the fro door—in a patent receiver with glass front and back, and a tipping bottom from whic by pulling a strap, the driver slips or drops each fare or ticket as soon as deposite into a metal box below, which is unlocked and emptied of its contents once each day by t secretary or his agent, as the car passes the depot or the office. These cars have enabled t company to cover the road oftener with the same force. This company owns forty cars, b sides a number of large, open cars for summer excursions; two hundred and fifty horse and regularly employ forty-five drivers, at $2.50 per day. Fare five cents. Tickets of other city roads received.

THE NORTH BEACH AND MISSION RAILROAD CO. runs two main, double-track lines, havi a general direction at right angles to each other and intersecting at the corner of Fourth a Folsom streets, where either transfers to the other without extra charge. The one commo called the City Route, has its southern terminus on Fourth Street, corner of Townsend, at t offices of the Central, Southern Pacific, and California Pacific railway companies, whence extends through Fourth and Kearny, Montgomery Avenue, and other important streets to t junction of Mason and Francisco streets, North Beach, a distance of two and seven eighths mile The other, more generally known as the Mission Route, runs from the corner of Montgomery a California streets, down the latter to and along Battery Street, through First and along Fo som to Twenty-sixth Street, its southerly terminus, about three miles and three quarte During the past year the company has added a third line to their mileage, which, known the Ferry Line, runs from the Plaza, through Kearny, California, Battery, Pine, and Market the Ferry Landing. Passengers on the Ferry Line are transferred to both the City and Mission routes without additional charge, and vice versa. The company upon all their lines run regularly between and forty-five cars, owns three hundred horses, employs one hundred and fifty men, pays its actors and drivers $2.50 per day. Fare reduced January 1, 1878, to five cents. Tickets the city roads received. During the past three years the road has transported five million assengers annually, creating a gross revenue of about $250,000 per year. The company ts no increase of business for the past year.

HE CENTRAL RAILROAD CO. owns two main lines, both double track. One runs from the et Street Wharf, via East, Jackson, Sansom, and other streets, to the junction of Eighth Brannan streets, two and seven eighths miles. The other from Market Street Wharf, via et, Pine, Sansom, and other important streets, to the junction of Post Street and Central ue, Lone Mountain, four miles and a quarter. During the year an extension of the com- s lines has been made from Fifth Street on Market, to and up Dupont Street to Post. length of road operated by company, seven and one half miles. The company has now ily use twenty-eight cars—thirteen on the city front line and fifteen on the Lone Mountain Three hundred horses are employed and one hundred and fifty men. There were carried g the year between three and one half and four million passengers. Fare, five cents. ets of all other lines received.

LAY STREET RAILROAD.—This railroad was constructed in 1873, and is the pioneer road e use of the "endless wire cable," invented and patented by A. S. Hallidie, Esq., the extensive manufacturer of wire and wire rope on the Pacific Coast, and the success of h was first demonstrated by this company. The road commences at Clay and Kearny, and nds through Clay to Van Ness Avenue, a distance of about one mile, the cars being drawn taching themselves to the underground cable, which runs the entire distance. The steep es average about fifteen feet in every one hundred. On the top of the hill proper are two onary steam engines of one hundred and twelve horse power, only one of which is used, ther being a reserve in case of accident or other necessities. These engines wind the cable ne track and down the other, like winding cotton thread around a spinning-wheel. The move gently, steadily, and smoothly, and the only noise heard is a slight rumbling under- nd, made by the cable. This cable is of steel wire, three inches in circumference, and as ength of the incline is over five thousand feet, the cable is about eleven thousand feet, or miles, long. It weighs eight tons. During the past year the road was extended from enworth Street, its former terminus, to Van Ness Avenue, at an expense of $80,000.

HE OMNIBUS RAILROAD CO., like several others, has its two routes, or main double-track . The first, or City Route, commonly called the North Beach and South Park Line, has its nern terminus at the depot of the Southern Pacific Railroad on Townsend Street, whence it in a generally northerly direction along Townsend to Third, through Market, Montgom- Montgomery Avenue, Pacific, Stockton, Union, and Powell streets, to the junction of the r with Bay Street, three miles in all. A branch line runs along Market Street, its junction with Montgomery, to the Oakland Ferry. Returning, the cars make easterly transit from Stockton to Montgomery Street, by going down Washington et. A branch line, single track, extends from Third Street, easterly, down Brannan et to the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Docks, conveying passengers to and from the main Line without extra expense. The other main line of this company—the Mission Route— s from Montgomery Street, and runs down Washington through Sansom, to and over a e track, along Market to Second, to Howard, along which, westerly, and then southerly, it hes its course at the corner of Twenty-sixth Street, three and one half miles from its osite terminus. The company's ferry cars run between the stand in front of the Hibernia k and the Oakland and other ferries—making close connection with the yellow and red thus enabling passengers from the ferry, by means of transfers, to reach any point on the pany's route for a single fare. The same facilities are afforded for going to the ferries any point on the company's routes. It has running forty-six cars, of which twenty- are of the most elegant, best constructed, most thoroughly equipped, excellently ed, convenient, and comfortable one-horse cars that the skill and taste of that vet- car-builder, John Stephenson, could construct. Among several modern improvements ne new cars, the most notable, as the one likely to prove most generally acceptable, cially to ladies without escorts, is the new arrangement of the check-strap communicating the driver's bell. Just inside the car it divides into two, one of which runs along the upper er, on each side, from end to end. From these, at convenient intervals, short-connecting- os hang sufficiently low to be conveniently grasped and pulled without rising. Thus, a lady readily give the stopping signal without leaving her seat or asking any one to do it for her. r the City Line the company runs from eighteen to twenty cars. On all their lines it employs— early as can be estimated in the absence of official figures, which they appear strangely ctant to give—about a hundred and thirty men, and not far from three hundred horses. ays its conductors and drivers $2 a day, and transfers patrons without extra expense from er line to the other, at the corner of Third and Howard streets, and at the corner of Mont- ery and Washington, where the two main lines come nearest together. Under a lease with the Market Street Railway Co., this line runs its cars along Market Street to Oakland Ferry. Its total length slightly exceeds miles, mostly single track. Forty-two men, one hundred and fifteen horses, and seventeen make up the list of employés and the inventory of live and rolling stock. MARKET STREET RAILWAY.—This was the first street railroad constructed in this city, was for some years operated by steam, under legislative and municipal franchises. Like other suburban railroads, it has kept in advance of the growth of the city, until its original miles operated has by its various lines or branches now reached nine and a half miles, with p pects of further extension as rapidly as the increase in business seems to require it. The line of this road extends from Oakland Ferry, along Market and Valencia streets, to Twe sixth Street, a distance of about four miles. Two branch lines are also run from Oakland Fe one via Hayes, Laguna, Tyler streets, etc., to the junction of Devisadero and O'Farrell str which is generally known as the Hayes Valley Branch; the other, or Fifth Street Branch, fo accommodation of that growing portion of the city, running via Fifth Street to various public b ings and manufacturing establishments, and the great wool depots located upon its rout also the freight depots of the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific railroads, termina directly opposite the Passenger Depot of the Southern Pacific, and being the only lin cars running direct between the Oakland Ferry and the railroad depots. The ave number of miles run per car over the three lines per day is two hundred and n teen and a half (219½), or an average of seventy-three miles and one sixth over route, the shortest being sixty-eight and the longest seventy-six miles; the total mil per day over the various routes being three thousand five hundred and sixty-three one half miles. The company has fifty-nine cars and four hundred and fifty-nine horses, employs two hundred and five men in various capacities. The conductors are required to a neat gray uniform cap, which is said to add to the efficiency of their service. Its cars are nished with all late improvements, are roomy inside and well ventilated, with extra large forms for smokers and other outside passengers. They are kept clean inside and outside, have the reputation of making the quickest time of any cars in the city, as well as running frequently—not more than two or three minutes elapsing at any time during the day betw the running of the cars at any point between the new City Hall and the Oakland Ferry, w frequently they are running under only one or two minutes headway over a portion of route. A substantial and commodious two-story stable and carhouse, for the Hayes Va line, is located on Turk Street, between Fillmore and Steiner, and occupies half a block. destructive fire of August, 1876, having destroyed the stable and carhouse of the Fifth St line on the block bounded by Third, Fourth, Brannan, and Townsend, the company at rebuilt them in the most solid and substantial manner, and as nearly fire-proof as possible, brick walls being very heavy, and iron roof and ventilators. The stables and car-house of Market Street and Valencia Street lines are located on Valencia street, between Fifteenth Sixteenth.

BERRY STREET RAILROAD.—This railroad, commencing at the intersection of the east line of Seventh Street with Berry Street, runs thence through Berry to Third, and Thir Channel Street. Work was commenced during the Fall of last year, was delayed somew by injunction obtained by property-holders along the line, which, having been dissolved, the w is being pushed vigorously, and the road will be completed by the date of this publicat Cars to be drawn by horses, and intended for the transportation of freight and passengers.

PROJECTED LINES.—In addition to the foregoing, franchises have been obtained during past year for the following projected lines: The Ocean Beach Railroad Company, to run f California Street along First Avenue, Fifth Avenue, B Street, Twenty-sixth Avenue, C Str and Great Highway, to the southern boundary line of the city and county; cars to be moved either horses, compressed air, or cable; this road is to be the extension or continuatio the California Street Railroad. Another, to run from the centre line of Stockton Str through Geary Street, Central, Point Lobos, and First avenues to Golden Gate Pa and another, known as the "Prismoidal or Elevated Railway," to be built at a height of less than fourteen feet above the curbing of the sidewalks, and to run from the intersectio Market and Valencia streets through various streets along Golden Gate Park to the Oc Beach, and providing for lateral branches via Laguna de la Merced to the county line, and f San Miguel to junction of San Jose Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street. All of the above yet in abeyance, but it is expected that work will be commenced upon most of them dur the coming spring.

rancisco, Oakland and Alameda, and the San Joaquin Valley railroads, which, together he leased lines, make a total mileage operated by the company of two thousand and thirty- and one-half miles. The amount of stock subscribed in the Central Pacific Railroad any of California is $62,608,800, of which $54,275,500 has been paid up. The receipts ne year ending June 30, 1877, from transportation of passengers, $5,363,870.07; of ts, $10,095,349.87; and from other sources, $1,326,706.72; total $16,985,926.66. The ting expenses for the year were $8,326,614.21, leaving net earnings to the amount of 9,312.45, the proportion of operating expenses to gross receipts being forty-nine per cent. ndebtedness of the company at the close of said year amounted to $91,953,224.16, of i there is due to the United States $27,855,680. The value of the road, including its , steamers, rolling stock, machine shops, and all appurtenances, is estimated at $185,047,- 8. During the year ten passenger cars have been converted into sleeping cars, and other ions to rolling stock as follows: Eleven second-class passenger cars, four hundred and cy-seven box freight, and two hundred and sixteen platform cars. The number of first- passenger cars is one hundred and five; second-class, eighty-three; sleeping cars, forty- baggage, express, and mail, thirty-nine; caboose, seventy-three; box freight, two thou- five hundred and fifty-one; and platform cars, one thousand seven hundred and eleven— ng a total of four thousand six hundred and three cars on the road.

HE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD CO. is a consolidation (April 12, 1870) of the following anies: Southern Pacific, chartered December 2, 1865; San Francisco and San Jose, char- April 7, 1870; Santa Clara and Pajaro Valley, chartered January 2, 1868; and California hern, chartered January 22, 1870.

he Southern Pacific Branch Railroad Co., chartered December 23, 1872, was consolidated e Southern Pacific August 19, 1873; and the Los Angeles and San Pedro Railroad Co., ered February 18, 1868, was consolidated therein December 18, 1874. The total length l these lines forming the Southern Pacific Railroad, as now constructed and in progress, is housand two hundred and twenty-three and one-quarter miles.

y the Act of Congress passed March 3, 1871, to incorporate the Texas and Pacific Railroad the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. was authorized to connect with the latter road at Fort a, so as to provide a through line to San Francisco, public lands being granted in aid eof. At the last session of Congress, a bill amending the former, and allowing the South- Pacific Railroad Co. to continue its line eastward, across Arizona and New Mexico, about hundred miles, to a point one hundred miles west of El Paso, and fixing that as the point unction of the two roads, was reported, each company to acquire the lands and fran- s for so much as it constructed. The bill also proposed a guarantee by the United States he interest on the five per cent. bonds of the companies, at the rate of $35,000 per mile, for erm of fifty years. Final action is yet to be taken upon it. In the meantime, to com- e at the earliest practicable day the through connection by the thirty-second parallel, the hern Pacific Railroad Co. has obtained legislative authority from Arizona to construct its through that Territory.

The last rail connecting Los Angeles and San Francisco was laid September 2, 1876. In construction of this road great engineering difficulties were encountered, and at the Te- apai Pass, where the Coast Range and the Sierra Madre form a junction, there are seven- tunnels in less than nineteen miles, the aggregate length thereof being seven thousand six lred and eighty-three and three-quarters feet; and at San Fernando there is a single tunnel ngth six thousand nine hundred and sixty-six and one-half feet. These tunnels, at the om, are fourteen feet in the clear, and sixteen and one-half feet in excavation, and in hth twenty-two feet, the shoulders at the springing of the arch being eighteen feet four es above the floor. The work on the San Fernando tunnel was commenced March 27, 1875; headings met July 14, 1876; and the timbering was completed August 9, 1876. It is built slope of thirty-seven feet to the mile.

The road was opened to Fort Yuma (seven hundred and twenty miles distant from San ncisco, via Lathrop and Goshen) on May 5, 1877. The Sierra Nevada Range is crossed at levation of two thousand nine hundred and sixty-four feet above tide; the Sierra Madre at ina, at two thousand eight hundred and twenty-two feet; and the Sierra Madre recrossed an Gorgonio Pass, at two thousand five hundred and sixty feet above tide. Its local busine gradually increasing, and the towns along its line growing very perceptibly every year. amount earned for the year ending June 30, 1877, was $1,325,000. A connection is now b made with the Northern Railway at Suisun, Solano Co., which will give an all-rail route fro Northern terminus to Oakland Wharf, and greatly facilitate business on the west side of Sacramento River, and materially lessen the time between San Francisco and Sacramento.

North Pacific Coast Narrow-Gauge.—Within the past year the second section of road has been completed. The first division, from Saucelito to Tomales, is fifty-five miles; the ond division, from Tomales to Moscow, is twenty four and one-half miles. The cost of the road equipments, including ferry and freight transfer on the bay, has been $3,000,000. The tunnel in the neighborhood of Rafael being completed, it is expected to have the road built to deep water near San Raf early in the spring, when a large and profitable business in lumber will be at once develo This road will also considerably reduce the traveling time, and place such towns as Santa R Petaluma and Healdsburg within two hours of San Francisco. She was valued at $600,000; and the Constitution took fire off Point Reyes, and d to the water's edge, as she was towed into the harbor of San Francisco—both disasters, to the energy and skill of the able commanders, being unaccompanied with loss of life. were added, during the year, three first-class steamers—the South Carolina, Georgia, and Vilmington—all of the most approved naval architecture and luxurious appointments. company now owns, and has in active service, twenty-one side-wheel steamships, and ty-five iron-screw propellers, besides tug-boats and other small craft, superannuated ves- etc.; they also propose to build, during the present year, three new steamers of four thou- tons burden each. The company runs five different lines. The oldest and best known is the York and San Francisco Line, commonly called the Isthmus Route. Four side-wheel and five screw boats, of over three thousand tons each, constitute this line; a ship leaves New York other Saturday and San Francisco alternate Wednesdays, at noon. The only way port at these ships regularly touch, is the Mexican port of Acapulco. Its Central American and can Line comprises four iron screws, of two thousand tons each, and three side-wheelers. line makes regular fortnightly trips between San Francisco and Panama, calling at some ty Mexican and Central American way ports; a ship leaves San Francisco at noon every Thursday. The great Japan and China Line, which might properly be called the Americo- ic, or great Central Trans-Pacific Line, embracing a larger arc of the earth's circumference any regularly established route has ever before attempted, is that upon which this great any has concentrated its chief attention. It has nine immense screw steamers, and ten wheelers, of nearly equal dimensions. On the first day of each month (except when that s Sunday, when the sailing day will be on the Saturday previous) a steamer is dispatched San Francisco to Yokohama and Hongkong. Its fourth line is between San Francisco and oria and Tacoma. On the 10th and 25th of each month a first-class iron-screw steamer is tched for the above ports. Its fifth line is to the Sandwich Islands, New Zealand and ralia. Five first-class screw steamers, of three thousand five hundred tons each, are de- d for this service, and one of them leaves San Francisco on or about the fourth Monday of month, or as soon as the British mails arrive from New York. The company's ection with other lines than its own branches, are as follows: At Hongkong with ish and French steamers for the upper ports of India, and, by the way of the Suez Canal, the Mediterranean and Atlantic ports of southern and western Europe. The New York San Francisco Line connects at Panama with the Pacific Steam Navigation Co.'s lines to all important Pacific ports of South America. At Aspinwall it connects with the Royal Mail m Packet Co., direct to Liverpool; with the Hamburg-American Steam Packet Co., to burg; with the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, to France. The outward and in- l business of this line from 1867 to 1874, inclusive, aggregated, is as follows: Outward sure, $65,023,957; passengers, 39,851. Inward—treasure, $1,214,710; passengers, 65,754.

The shipment from China and Japan to eastern cities, via San Francisco, during the past ten s, shows a receipt of seven millions one hundred and sixty-one thousand two hundred pounds lk, one hundred millions six hundred and forty-five thousand two hundred and fifty-nine nds of tea, two million three thousand and fifty-three pounds of merchandise. A gradual entage of increase is also shown. In 1867 there was received one hundred and twenty- thousand two hundred and eighty-two pounds of silk, and four hundred and sixty-nine sand five hundred and forty-nine pounds of tea. In 1877 there was received one and one- millions pounds of silk, and eighteen million nine hundred and fifty-two thousand five hun- l and fifty-nine pounds of tea. The total exports of merchandise to China, during the twelve ths of the present year, amount to $3,510,172, and to Japan, $801,207; total to the Orient, 11,379. Adding all treasure shipments made to both countries during the year, the grand l of exports foots up $23,912,653, against $15,288,696 in 1876.

The Oregon Steamship Co. established, nearly twenty years ago, a regular line of steam- s to ply between San Francisco, Astoria, and Portland, Oregon. Vessels now leave each about every five days, carrying the United States mails, express, treasure, freight and pas- gers, and connecting with quick dispatch, at Portland, with railroads, steamers, and other necting stage lines, for all points in Oregon, Washington and Idaho Territories, British mbia, and Alaska. To accommodate the constantly-increasing trade and travel between Francisco and Oregon, the Oregon Steamship Co. has, during the past year, added to its three large, new, fast, first-class, iron-screw steamships—the Oregon, George W. er, and City of Chester, and are now building two more to be put upon the route dur- the summer of the present year. All of these steamships combine great speed with great rying capacity of passengers and freight, and are provided with all the modern improve- nts and elegant appointments, including superior cabin and steerage accommodations, for the ty and comfort of the traveling public, and the quick and safe handling of cargo. This company transact all of the shipping trade between this por San Diego, excepting that done by sailing vessels. The company also extend their carrying rations to all important points as far north as Mendocino, in California, and to Portland Astoria in Oregon. This company and the Oregon Steamship Co. have been for some past, and are now, running a very lively opposition in the Oregon trade. This line is comp of sixteen vessels. The largest are the Ancon, wooden side-wheel, one thousand five hun and forty tons; Mohongo, iron side-wheel, one thousand three hundred and thirty-one and the Orizaba and Senator, also wooden side-wheel steamers of one thousand two hun and forty-five, and one theusand and twelve tons respectively. This company has a large steamer building by Cramp & Sons, Philadelphia, which they expect to add to their fleet ing the coming summer. She will be one of the fastest and finest steamers in the world. company, during the past year, has expended about $350,000 in the improvement and re-b ing of its steamers. A hundred thousand dollars were spent on the Idaho. The Constan and Salinas have been supplied with new boilers, and their machinery compounded. Santa Cruz has been supplied with another deck, new boilers, and compounded engines, various other important and and valuable improvements. This company began business a ten years ago, with one steamer—they now have sixteen. Capital stock, $2,000,000; $1,000,000 paid in. Handsome dividends are regularly paid. The office is located at 10 ket Street.

Occidental and Oriental Steamship Co.—This company has been in active operation tween San Francisco and China and Japan since June, 1875. They dispatch one of t steamers about the middle of every month, carrying the United States mails. The vessels large, well equipped, and of first-class build, and afford excellent accommodations, and alr perfect safety to the sea-faring public. This line is operated by a company of some of the reliable and worthy business men of this city.

The California and Mexican Steamship Co. dispatches a vessel every thirty-five d for Magdalena Bay, Cape St. Lucan, Mazatlan, La Paz, and Guaymas. This line carries Mexican mails and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, and is engaged exclusively in the Mex Coast trade.

In addition to the foregoing there are a number of steamships running to various points on coast and upon our important river routes, viz.: To Coos Bay, Crescent City, etc., steam Empire; to Eureka, Arcata, etc., steamers Humboldt and Pelican; to Wilmington and N port, steamer Newport; to Hueneme and way ports, steamer Constantine. Upon the r and bay steamers are the Amador and Julia, forming a daily line to Sacramento, leaving wharf, at Washington Street, at 4:00 P. M. There are also in the Sacramento trade steamers Whipple, Reform, Constance, and Centennial; three additional steamers ply regul to Stockton, and smaller lines are running regularly to such contiguous points as Alv Antioch, Marysville, Napa, and Petaluma.

Ferries.

The Oakland Ferry, at the foot of Market Street, leaves every half hour for Oakla from 6:10 A. M., until 7 P. M. The next boat leaves at 8:10; the next, 9:20; the next, 10: and the last at 11:45. Trips are also made via the Creek Route, boats leaving at 7:15 and 9 A. M., and 12:15, 2:25, and 4:10 P. M. The average number of passengers crossing f Oakland daily, during 1877, was fifteen thousand four hundred and fifty-two; it is estima that fully twenty thousand cross on Sundays. Fare, fifteen cents each way; round- tickets, on Sundays, twenty-five cents. Commutation tickets, good for one trip, each way, day, for one month, and are sold at $3. The following statistics concerning the travel on ferry will prove quite interesting: Number of trips, 1873, two millions six hundred and fifty- thousand six hundred and seventy-one; 1874, three millions one hundred and ninety- thousand nine hundred and four; 1875, four millions twenty-eight thousand three hundred ten; 1876, four millions nine hundred and nine thousand nine hundred and sixty; 1877, millions five hundred and seventy thousand five hundred and fifty-five. The adoption, dur the past year, of the new water line, at the city front, by the Board of Harbor Commission necessitated the removal of the old slips and buildings, and the building of others to conf to said line. This work, executed, as it has been, in the customary thorough, scientific complete manner which characterize all the improvements of the Central Pacific Railroad C has involved a great outlay, and may justly be ranked as one of the greatest improvements the city during the year. The buildings are conveniently arranged, and contain waiting refreshment rooms, ticket offices, baggage and express rooms, for the accommodation passengers awaiting the ferries.

The San Quentin Ferry is at the foot of Market Street. Three trips are made da boats leaving at 10:00 A.M., and at 2 and 4:30 P.M. Water Front and Harbor Improvements.

n accordance with an Act of the Legislature of 1875-6, authorizing the Board of Har-Commissioners to appoint a Board of Engineers to examine the harbor, with a view to construction of a "harbor bulkhead," or outer line of water front, Major Mendell, of U. S. Engineer Department, Professor George Davidson, of the U. S. Coast Survey, Mr. Arnold, Engineer of the Harbor Commission, were selected for that task, and ed upon their duties. The result of their labors has been as follows: They recomd a new line of water front, which shall begin two hundred feet seaward from the ern prolongation of the Presidio Reservation, and extend in an easterly and southerly tion upon straight or curved lines in such manner as to approach as near as practicable extreme outer projections of the water front, established by Act of 1851, to a point near ntersection of Second and Berry streets, and thence to continue southerly upon straight rved lines in such manner as to approach as near as practicable the extreme outer pro-ons of the water-line front, established by the Board of State Tide Land Commissioners, e southern boundary of the City and County of San Francisco. The principal advantages ned for the new line are economy in the cost of construction, and parallelism with the tidal ents. An important feature of the readjustment of the water front is also a proposed thoroughfare, two hundred feet in width, extending in straight lines from point to point g the water front, and affording easy access to all parts of it. Distances would be very erially shortened. For example, as compared with the present zigzag line from Larkin et, on the north, to Alameda Street, just south of China Basin, the distance would be tened by four thousand two hundred and sixty feet, and correspondingly with reference listances between other points, while there would be no decrease of available dockage
. The engineers were agreed that, although the new line crosses the entrances to the nâ, Central, India, South and Dry Dock Basins, there should be free entrance to all. The neer of the Harbor Commissioners makes the following estimate of the cost of the new including the expense of dredging a channel sixty feet wide and twenty feet deep, filling ith large stone, filling the thoroughfare with small stone and earth, planking the roadway constructing a wharf thirty feet wide, to serve as a facing to the sea wall: From Chest-to Harrison Street, 7,000 feet, $2,357,886; from Chestnut to Powell Street, 3,170 feet, 4,800; from Harrison to the foot of Second Street, 3,080 feet, $1,156,400. Total distance, 50 feet; total cost, $4,362,086.

Hotels.

PALACE HOTEL.—This seven-story palatial structure covers nearly two and a quarter acres round. It has a frontage of two hundred and seventy-five feet on the south side of Market, three hundred and fifty feet on New Montgomery. Thirty-two million bricks were used in construction. The walls and partitions are built of stone and brick, laid in cement, and thus le earthquake and fire-proof. The lower story is twenty-five feet high, in the clear, and the enth is fourteen. The building contains three inner courts, within which are miniature gars of rare plants, ever in bloom. Broad galleries, or piazzas, on each story, extend around these n courts, thus affording the guests opportunities for afternoon or evening promenades, without ng into the public streets. There are seven hundred and fifty-five rooms in the hotel, above ground floor. The accommodating capacity of the hotel is estimated at twelve hundred.

THE BALDWIN.—This hotel is an addition to our already numerous palatial structures.
J. Baldwin, Esq., is the proprietor, and John A. Rice, recently of the Chicago Grand ific, is the lessee. The building is on the conical-shaped lot bounded by Market, Powell, Ellis streets, and has a frontage of twenty-five feet on Eddy. It also has a frontage of one ndred and eighty-four feet on Market, two hundred and seventy-five on Powell, and one ndred and thirty-eight on Ellis. The basement is entirely of brick and iron. The building ix stories high, and contains four hundred and ninety-five rooms. The mansard roof and ers are of heavy timber, framed and bolted together. On the roof are several walks, laid out the accommodation of guests who wish to take an elevated promenade, and at the same time e a beautiful view of the city and bay. The principal dome on Powell Street is one hundred twenty feet from the pavement. In the base of the dome is a ladies' sewing room, where fair sex can pursue their tatting free from the interruption of man, as none but ladies are wed to enter the portals of this chamber dedicated to woman. It also contains a billiard lor exclusively for ladies, and a conservatory, which will not only beautify the billiard and ing rooms, but afford the ladies an excellent opportunity to study botany, and at the same e see what is going on all over the city. As a check against fire, a tank containing eighty-two thousand gallons of water has been placed on the roof. There are seven fire-plugs, with hundred and fifty feet of hose, on each story. There are in the basement two artesian w capable of supplying one hundred and seventy thousand gallons daily, and a reservoir hol sixty thousand gallons. This will, in case of immediate necessity, give an ample supply all purposes. In addition the Spring Valley water mains run into the building, but are t used only in case of exigencies. The height of the main dome, surmounting the angle of Ma and Powell streets, is one hundred and sixty-eight feet from the pavement. It contains stories, and a "bulls-eye" look-out at the top. There are three elevators. One is run electricity, and only used for sending up cards of callers, instead of the usual way of ringi bell and sending them by a slow boy. The elevator for passengers runs from the office to dome, and is of the latest Parisian pattern—an open car. The Baldwin was opened du February, 1877.

THE GRAND HOTEL.—This durable and solidly-built hotel is on Market and New Montgom streets, occupying a lot two hundred and seven feet on the former, and three hundred and on the latter, and one hundred and sixty on Second. It was completed in 1870, at a cos $850,000. The furniture manufactured in Europe and at the East, expressly for this hotel, more than a quarter of a million. It contains four hundred rooms—the suites being elega furnished and commodious. The dining rooms are light, spacious, and airy, and will accommod about three hundred guests at once. Last summer an artesian well was bored on the premi which now furnishes the water supply for the hotel.

THE COSMOPOLITAN is on the southwest corner of Bush and Sansom. It has long bee favorite resort for the traveling public, especially those of the Pacific Coast visiting the tropolis. Recently extensions have been made, until this hotel adjoins the Occidental ex sions on Bush toward Sansom. The capacity of the Cosmopolitan is about five hundred gue During the past year the entire house has been repainted and refurnished, dining rooms larged, and fire escapes, with extra supply of hose, placed through the house, as a secu against fires.

OCCIDENTAL HOTEL.—This hotel occupies the entire frontage of the block on Montgome between Bush and Sutter. It is four stories high, is richly, elegantly, and tastefully furnish and continues to be regarded, as of yore, one of the first-class hotels of the city. It will commodate about six hundred guests.

THE LICK HOUSE is on the west side of Montgomery Street, extending from Sutter to P with a depth of about two hundred feet towards Kearny. This hotel ranks among the fi class establishments of the city, or of the United States, its extensive patronage being evidence of that fact. It is elegantly and luxuriantly furnished, and affords an unexcepti able table. It will accommodate about five hundred guests.

THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL is located at the juncture of Kearny and Pacific streets and Mo gomery Avenue. It has a frontage of one hundred and forty-eight feet on the avenue, one h dred and thirty feet on Pacific, and thirty-five feet on Kearny Street, and is three stories hi During the past year it has been entirely refurnished, repainted, and many other important i provements made. Nothing that could add to the comfort and pleasure of guests has b omitted. This hotel is rapidly growing into popularity as one of the leading and best kept est lishments in the city. Mr. John Fagothey is the genial landlord.

Our seven leading hotels have an aggregate accommodating capacity of about six thousa Probably in no other city in the world are there, proportionately, more first-class hotels, bet kept and more liberally patronized, than in San Francisco. Our people believe in first-cl accommodations, and liberally patronize such establishments.

LODGING HOUSES, ETC.—In addition to the above, there are numerous smaller hotels, a about fifteen hundred boarding and lodging houses in the city. An unusually large numb have been erected during the past few years—notably on Bush, between Kearny and Stockt on Mission, from Third to Ninth, and Tenth, and on various other streets, especially south Market, are this class of improvements especially noticeable. Small hotels are growing up almost every hand, as if there were no limit to those seeking accommodations. A strang would think our people reversed the rule, and all boarded, and that "keeping house" was t exception, but the far greater number of dwellings erected during the same period pro otherwise.

Theaters.

BALDWIN'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Like Niblo's Garden, in New York, this theater is bu within a hotel. Independent of the hotel, it cost about $250,000. In point of elegance, tas architectural skill and beauty, this model temple of the drama is not surpassed in the Unit States—if in the world. The grand entrance is on Market Street, twenty feet broad, and la with encaustic English tile of variegated colors, the hall-way being lighted with two magni cent crystal chandeliers. The entrance to the dress circle is decorated by costly mirrors on sides, beautifully reflecting, in full length, the elaborate wardrobes of the fashionable attenda as they majestically sweep by. There are ten mezzanine boxes, and twelve proscenium box carpeted with the richest Axminster carpeting. The stage is fifty feet deep, thirty-six fe high, and thirty-five feet wide. On the drop curtain is a beautiful allegorical painting, rep senting the flight of Psyche—the human soul passing from earth to eternity. The dress cir

The boxes will seat another one hundred, making al of two thousand four hundred. The theater is noted for possessing the largest stage most complete stage appointments of any theater in the United States, and is especially pted for the production of spectacular and allegorical dramas requiring complicated hanical contrivances. Its facilities for escape in case of fire are also of the most perfect r; doors open outward from all parts of the house into broad vestibules, in which no jam rush could hardly arise. It is estimated this theater could be emptied in five minutes. In second story, and in front of the theater proper, is a large hall designed for, but which has been used as, an art gallery. The theater is owned by a joint stock company, and cost 5,000. It is located on Mission, between Third and Fourth.

THE BUSH STREET THEATER (formerly the Alhambra) is on the south side of Bush, near ntgomery. The dress circle has a seating capacity of about five hundred, and the orches- circle probably as many more. The inner building has been remodeled and considerably roved, and gives the spectator an unobstructed view of the stage, and a free egress.

EMERSON'S OPERA HOUSE is just on the opposite side of Bush. It is similarly arranged hat of the Alhambra Theater, and has a seating capacity of about six hundred.

THE BELLA UNION, corner of Kearny and Washington, is devoted to variety entertain- nts. It will accommodate about one thousand.

In addition to the above, there are Platt's, Pacific and Union Halls, the Mechanics' Pavil- and various other halls where public entertainments are frequently given. Our five thea- have an aggregate seating capacity of about seven thousand five hundred. An average ndance would turn out about four thousand amusement-seekers nightly. Owing to our sant weather and cool evenings, our places of amusement keep open the year round. To ain these public resorts, without the usual summer season "intermission," speaks well for liberality of our amusement-loving people.

Public Squares.

There are twenty-two public parks, or squares, in this city, varying in size from two hundred to the great Ocean Park of one thousand and thirteen acres. Ocean, or Golden Gate Park, in the northwestern portion of the city, bordering on the ocean. It is fifty-six blocks long nine blocks wide—or six times as long as it broad; or, in linear measure, it is three miles and a half mile wide. A beautiful avenue, or drive, about three-quarters of a mile long and hundred yards wide, leads from the city proper to the park. There are seven lakelets in this k; also arbors, grottoes, mounds, rustic benches, etc., which gives it rather a picturesque romantic appearance. Up to November 30, 1875, the Park Commissioners had received n all sources $447,705.62, of which $413,177.67 had been expended, leaving a cash balance $34,527.95. From November 30, 1875, to November 30, 1877, the receipts have been as ows: From the sale of Rustic Lumber, $40.80; from the General Fund. $15,000; from es, $40,636.83; from sale of Disabled Horses, $161.50; from Police Court fines, $1.520; n Pound fees, $518; making a total since their last report of $57,885.13; with balance on d at that date, $34.527.95—$92,413.08.

The amount expended during the past two years is $91,066.35, leaving a cash balance on nd of $1,346.73. Since its organization the Board of Park Commissioners has disbursed $504,244.02, all of which is represented by actual work performed on the grounds in its cha and for the purchase of material and merchandise employed in the work. For the m tenance of the Park the Legislature of the State, 1876, authorized the Board of Supervi to appropriate $15,000, and to levy an annual assessment upon the taxable property of City and County, of one and one half per cent. upon each one hundred dollars valuation.

The amount actually expended upon the Parks also includes the expense of fencing Buena Vista and Mountain Lake Parks, and making large plantations on the former rese tion, so that deducting the expense of the preliminary topographical survey of Golden Park, and the amount of the items of expense upon the other two reservations, the cos improvement and maintenance of the Park, as seen by ordinary visitors, has been, during past five and a half years, since the work commenced, about $456,663.91. Of this, a $98,000 is chargeable to maintenance; and about $13,000 invested in work-horses, rolling-st heavy implements, tools, office furniture, instruments, and other needful incidentals, in g order for future use; so that the total cost of improving Golden Gate Park and Avenue, incl ing all plans therefor, superintendence of the work and reclamation of the sands, is, to hereof, $345,663.91.

The statement relating to visitors shows that one hundred and thirty thousand eight h dred and eighty-eight vehicles and four hundred and forty-four thousand six hundred eighteen persons entered the Park during the year ending November 30, 1874; one hund and fifty-seven thousand and ninety-one vehicles and five hundred and sixteen thousand hundred and seventy persons in the year ending November 30, 1875; one hundred eighty-nine thousand two hundred and thirty-four vehicles and nineteen thousand one hund and forty-four persons in the year ending November 30, 1876; and two hundred and eight thousand two hundred and sixty-six vehicles and seven hundred and three thousand six hund and fifty-eight persons in the year ending November 30, 1877.. During the first mentio year fourteen million one hundred and twenty-three thousand six hundred and forty-one gal of water were used on the grounds; during the latter year, seventeen million eight hund and twenty-two thousand six hundred gallons.

The length of roadway constructed is thirty-five thousand eight hundred and eighty- linear feet, representing an area of one million six hundred thousand eight hundred and thi square feet.

About ten thousand linear feet of walks have been graded and macadamized in the Park which somewhat less than half is fully surfaced, while the remainder requires only a thin la of screened rock for their completion. There are ten thousand seven hundred linear fee walk graded, ready for macadamizing, in the avenue. This, with the ten thousand six hund feet macadamized in the Park, and about two thousand five hundred feet more now under c struction, makes twenty-eight thousand eight hundred linear feet, or somewhat over four mi of walk, which may be placed in serviceable condition at a reasonable expense during the p rent year.

The labor employed during the past year has been principally devoted to the maintena of the completed work, the work of improvement being limited to the completion of a part the walks, the construction of a bridle-path five thousand feet long, and the planting trees, shrubbery, and flowering plants.

Following is a statement of trees and shrubs planted in grounds: Purchased and planted the avenue and eastern portion of the Golden Gate Park in the Spring of 1872, six thousa six hundred and thirty; raised in the nursery and planted on the same grounds since that da forty-one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine; raised and planted on western or sand distr of Golden Gate Park during the seasons of 1873–75, seventeen thousand eight hundred a four; ditto on Buena Vista Park during same period, six thousand three hundred and thir seven. Total trees and shrubs planted out, seventy-two thousand seven hundred and twen planted during seasons of 1875–77, sixty-one thousand five hundred and thirty-six; to planted out with present appropriation, one hundred and thirty-four thousand one hund and fifty-six. In addition to the above there are about ten thousand young plants, for planti in subsequent seasons, in the nursery, and twenty-two thousand Pines for season of 1878–9.

The reservation known as the Great Highway is the key to all the work of permanent rec mation of the downs. It comprises a strip of land along the ocean beach, extending south fr the Cliff House bluff about two and seven-eighths miles, varying in width from two hundred four hundred feet, according to the curvature of the shore line. On it the sands are thrown the ocean waves and carried inland, a continuous fresh supply to the drift. The manner which this is being reclaimed, and a further drift of sand prevented, is thus described:

Along a line on the Highway reservation, lying parallel to and one hundred feet west of eastern boundary from its intersection with a prolongation of the northern boundary of Gold Gate Park, south, for a mile in length, across the face of the Western end of the Park Reser tion, and for half a mile south of it a brush fence has been built. Redwood posts, four by fo inches and fourteen feet long, were set three feet in the sand, at intervals of twelve feet; which, on the leeward side, two rails of one by six pine fencing lumber were loosely fasten originally near the ground and about two feet apart.

Against these rails on the outside a thin wall of brush was laid, which, making an eddy the winds, causes the advancing sands to heap up about the fence, a steep bank on the leewa loping away gently towards the beach. As the surface becomes higher, the rails are and more brush applied; the dune being now about nine feet in height, and the drift of nd effectually restrained from advancing more than eighteen feet within the line of fence. e present fence posts become covered, another row will be set parallel to them and about eet further towards the water, where the same process of checking the sands will be gone gh with, until the hillock becomes high and wide enough to improve as the proposed ed drive, along which will be planted suitable trees; the outer slope of the embankment planted with sea-beach grass and its inner face covered with shrubbery. In the course ne, the grass arresting further drift, and growing through it, the slope of the beach will ne too great for lodgment of more sand, and the advance will be checked. The drive on mmit of the dune will supply the place of that on the beach, commanding a fine view of ean and the inland improvements; and the proposed lower road at the foot of the dune inner line, will furnish a grand promenade, nearly three miles long, level and straight, ly protected from the winds.

e engineer considers it demonstrated that the shifting sands may be thoroughly reclaimed covered with vegetation, without resorting to such expensive expedients as had at first anticipated.

ecently a number of our public-spirited private citizens, having subscribed for and purchased o large conservatories imported from France by the late James Lick, Esq., have tendered the as a free gift to the Park Commissioners, conditioned upon their providing for and secur- ne erection of the same in Golden Gate Park within eighteen months from date of accept-ne Commissioners, feeling the necessity of concentrating their resources—which, as at pres- ovided, are entirely inadequate for much more than the work of maintenance and repair— e principal park, have as yet paid but little attention to Buena Vista Park, which, however, ot be much longer neglected. The fine prospects of bay and city scenery which it presents ogether with its other natural advantages, make it a most popular resort. The small park d Mountain Lake, as an indispensable feature to the general plan, will also be improved e long, and Congress will also, almost certainly, grant the use of the most of the Presidio ary Reservation to the city for the purposes of a park. It will, therefore, be seen that rancisco is in process of being liberally and well supplied with desirable places of out- recreation.

ORTSMOUTH SQUARE, opposite the City Hall, is two hundred and seventy-five by two hun- and four feet square. This square, or Portsmouth Square, as it was called in the early of Yerba Buena, is noted for its historical reminiscences. It is here where Captain Mont- y, of the U. S. S. Portsmouth, with a party of seventy marines and sailors, raised the ican flag on our newly acquired Mexican territory. This took place on July 8, 1846. Thirty afterwards, and we have a city of over three hundred thousand inhabitants, and grow- ore rapidly than any other in the Union. In 1851 another important event transpired in quare; a man named Jenkins was hanged for stealing a safe during the great fire of that in which the greater portion of the city was destroyed.

A great portion of this reserva is covered with water.

PIONEER PARK.—Several liberal citizens have donated to the city six fifty vara lots on crest of Telegraph Hill, to be dedicated for the purposes of a public park, under the nam Pioneer Park. The Legislature, at its session of 1875–6, empowered the Board of Superv to appropriate $5,000 for the erection of a fence, planting of trees, shrubbery, etc. Work been going on during the past year, and the amount appropriated for its improvement expen A bill is now pending in the Legislature of the State, asking for an appropriation that complete the park upon the plan originally proposed.

WOODWARD'S GARDENS.—This celebrated resort, or rather the curiosities that made grounds celebrated, is about being removed to the growing town of Berkeley. The r growth of our city, and the required extension of certain streets through the grounds occu by the enclosure necessitates this removal.

PROMENADES.—Upon Montgomery Street are located a large number of the most fashion retail houses—three of the leading hotels are on this street, within a few squares, and others are within "bell boy" distance. Some of the most elegant and substantial building also found on this street.

California Street intersects Montgomery at the business centre, thus affording the spect a "map of busy life, its fluctuations, and its vast concerns." The block bounded by Califo Montgomery, Pine, and Sansom streets, with the sides of streets opposite the same, repres the financial heart of the city, where, in its fierce pulsations, fortunes are made, and lost, few short hours; the small speculator a millionaire, and the millionaire, tempting the god of fortune once too often, becomes another wreck upon the commercial strand.

Kearny Street runs from Market to the top of Telegraph Hill, and is our fashionable p enade—though few promenade its entire length and height. Market Street, within the few years, has loomed up into formidable proportions as a contestant for the seat of the r trade, and bids fair in time to become the Broadway of San Francisco. Upon these streets may be seen people of every nationality and from every clime. This would peculiarity in any other city less cosmopolitan than San Francisco; but we are accustome new faces, new things, and new ideas. In short, ours is a new world, founded by a people to each other, with its natural and many blessings free to all. One serviceable thing ma said to pedestrians, and it is especially noticeable on crowded thoroughfares: Very few obe rules of street-walking—"keep to your right." This is simple and easy to recollect, besides, nature inclines the body to the right when one is walking. If pedestrians w recollect and observe this simple rule, it would greatly facilitate locomotion on crowded t oughfares.

Water Supply.

THE SPRING VALLEY WATER WORKS draw their principal supply at present from the Penin where they control the water-shed of thirty-nine square miles, which supplies their three sto reservoirs, namely: the Pilarcitos, the San Andreas, and the Crystal Springs. They are loc at a sufficiently high altitude to supply all parts of the city by gravitation. These three r voirs together have a storage capacity of over fifteen thousand million gallons. They can and wi increased to forty-six thousand million gallons, by building the lower Crystal Springs dam. water from these reservoirs is conducted, by means of two thirty-inch plate-iron pipes, into Lake Honda and the College Hill reservoirs, respectively. The former holds thirty- million gallons, and the latter fourteen million gallons. These two reservoirs again feed five smaller distributing reservoirs in San Francisco, viz: Market Street, Russian Hill, F cisco Street, Clay Street, and Brannan Street Reservoirs, all of which have a capacity of than sixty million gallons. The water from these distributing reservoirs is furnished to inhabitants of San Francisco through a system of cast-iron pipes, laid in the streets, ne one hundred and seventy miles in length, varying in diameter from twenty-two inch to t

The Company also obtain from Lobos Creek, by means of an aqueduct and pumping at Black Point, two million gallons daily. It owns additional water rights relating to ast streams above and below Spanishtown, which will enable it to utilize a water-shed of square miles. It has also acquired Calaveras Valley, which controls two hundred and quare miles of water-shed, and is the next nearest source of supply to San Francisco that . It has facilities readily adapting it to the construction of reservoirs that will contain thousand million gallons. From these Calaveras reservoirs the water will be conducted aqueduct, consisting of two miles of tunnel, twenty-two miles of pipe, and about y-four miles of open aqueduct, to Crystal Springs and San Andreas Reservoirs; indent pipe lines will convey the water from there to the city reservoirs. When the entire s are developed as proposed, the Spring Valley Water Works will have a storage capacity gating eighty-six thousand million gallons, and fed from a total water-shed of about three red and fifty square miles; all of which, when developed, will give an average yield of than two hundred million gallons daily—which, according to the amount consumed in Liver- England, viz: fourteen and one-half gallons per capita, will be enough to supply near four- million inhabitants. During the past year the Company has appropriated the water in Merced for the supplying of the city, and are taking therefrom upwards of three million ns daily. The Company has also continued the introduction, during the past year, of attachments to their taps, thereby enabling it, by a just and accurate measurement of city consumed, to estimate amount required, as well as to effect a vast economy in con- tion. The Company asserts that, with the completion of its meter system, it will be able ever abolish many of its arbitrary rates.

he Board of Water Commissioners, consisting of A. J. Bryant, D. J. Murphy, and George aynard, who were appointed under the Act of the Legislature of 1876, authorizing the o provide and maintain public water works, submitted a report of their labors January 78. In connection with Colonel George H. Mendell, of the United States Engineer Corps, have made an examination of the following water supplies: El Dorado Water and Deep el Mining Company, Clear Lake and Putah Creek, Lake Tahoe, Mount Gregory and Rubi- River, Blue Lakes and Mokelumne River, San Joaquin, South Yuba, Feather River, the Mateo Water Works Company, Lake Merced and the Spring Valley Water Works, includ- alaveras, and the water rights claimed by the San Francisco Water Company. Of these nes the Blue Lakes, which are one of the sources of the Mokelumne River, and situated pine County on the summit of the Sierra Nevada, seemed to offer the best facilities. The Lakes are three in number. The highest has an altitude of eight thousand one hundred nine feet above the level of the sea, and an area of two hundred and thirty acres. The d in altitude lies, in distance, a mile and a half below the first, and in altitude ninety- n feet; it has an area of seventy-three acres. Near the latter are the Twin Lakes. In y they are one sheet of water. They have an area of thirty acres. The water of these lakes is estionably pure, and the aggregate of their storage capacity is over five billion and three red million of gallons. The Commissioners determined that the Blue Lakes afford the available source of obtaining the needed water supply, and proposed entering into con- s for the construction of suitable works for introducing their waters. The City and County rney, however, expressed a decided opinion that they had no legal power to contract for r works to be constructed outside the Peninsula. Negotiations were accordingly broken nd it only remained to endeavor to get a supply on the Peninsula. Attempts were made rchase the Spring Valley, the Laguna de la Merced, and the San Mateo Water Works, all hich are within the Peninsula. No agreement, however, was reached as to the price to be

The Commissioners then condemned the property embraced in these three systems of r supply. It was their opinion that the only remedy for the evils of a water famine or a r monopoly was to condemn the entire water supply and water-shed on the Peninsula. ough perhaps no one of these properties so condemned will alone be able to furnish a suffi- supply of water to the city, the whole together are believed by the Commissioners fully uate to afford a supply which will be ample for the next twenty-five or thirty years. rs. James R. Kelly, Patrick Crowley, and Dr. J. L. Meares have been appointed Commis- rs to assess and award damages on the valuations of the property condemned. It is quite ible, however, that action may be taken in the present session of the Legislature which will e a material change in the present plan for the future water supply of the city.

Public Libraries.

THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE contains thirty-two thousand volumes; of which about one sand volumes were added during the past year. The revenue from this so during the year 1877 was about $5,000.

THE SAN FRANCISCO VEREIN, is located in the new building on Sutter Street, near Dup It contains about twenty thousand volumes, embracing the works of the most learned and c brated German historians, statesmen, psychologists, romancists, and litterateurs. The eleg rooms of this club were fitted up at a cost of about $75,000.

The city school-tax was 21 6-100 cents on each $100. school census shows that during the last fiscal year the number of children in the city betw six and seventeen years of age who are entitled to attend school, was forty-nine thousand f hundred and four, an increase of seven thousand one hundred and seventeen over that of previous year. The present building is admirably adapted to the purposes for whi it was designed, being abundantly lighted and well ventilated in every portion; the ceilings a lofty, and spacious halls run through the building. Health Department.

The exhaustive report of J. L. Meares, M. D., Health Officer, for the fiscal year ending June 1877, shows that during the year 1876–7, there were six thousand one hundred and seventy hs in the city, an increase over the preceding year of one thousand three hundred and nty-nine, or 20.56 per cent. per thousand, an increase of nearly three per cent. This in- se is accounted for by the prevalence of the epidemic of small-pox and diphtheria; the hs from the two diseases nunber one thousand three hundred and fifty-eight—four hundred forty-six being from small-pox, and nine hundred and twelve from diphtheria. Prompt entative measures were taken by the authoritives; the entire Chinese portion of the city thoroughly fumigated, and by the close of June, 1877, the presence of the plague was radi- y extirpated. The health of the city now compares favorably with that of any of the large es of our country.

Hospitals.

There is probably no city in the Union that has better provisions for the proper care and ful treatment of the sick or maimed than can be found in San Francisco. Among the eral nationalities that contribute so large a part of our cosmopolitan population, a praise- thy spirit of rivalry has from the earliest days of the city been largely instrumental in ering almost every species of benevolent schemes, and especially those which have for their ect the care of the sick. Hence San Francisco is well supplied with hospitals. In addition hose supported by public charity, there are large and elegant hospitals supported respect- ly by our French, German, and Italian citizens, who vie with each other in their efforts to ke the most generous provisions for the care of their unfortunate countrymen. Their insti- ions are also ever open to persons of every nationality who can afford to pay a moderate fee their advantages. There are also numerous private hospitals supported by the generosity ndividuals. Among them may be mentioned the State Woman's Hospital, the San Francis- Female Hospital, and the Foundling. The latter has for its object the shelter and care of ants who have been abandoned by their parents. These little waifs are left at the door of institution at any time of day or night, and are at once taken in and cared for by attend- s always in readiness. The Foundling is situated at 762 Mission Street. Of the children ere received, a large portion are adopted out and provided with comfortable homes. A dis- ctive feature of the institution is the secrecy which is observed in reference to the children o have gained homes by adoption, the object being to prevent parents who have abandoned em from ever interfering with the young lives of those they have cast upon the mercy of the ylum. St. Luke's Hospital is a commodious institution, situated on the San José Avenue, ar Twenty-seventh Street. It has recently been opened under the auspices of the Episcopa- n Societies. The French Hospital is located on Bryant Street, between Fifth and Sixth. e Italian Hospital is at the corner of Twenty-eighth and Noe streets. St. Mary's Hospital, der charge of the Sisters of Mercy, occupies a pleasant site on Rincon Hill. The German spital was formerly on Brannan Street. It was destroyed by fire in August, 1876. The w German Hospital is on Fourteenth Street, near Noe. The corner-stone was laid in August, 77, and the building will probably be dedicated in May, 1878. The buildings are situated on ot of land two hundred and eighty feet square. They are built of wood, with brick base- nts, and consist of one long three-story structure, with two-story wings on each side. The rds will be in the wings, which are designed to accommodate three hundred patients. The ound on which the hospital stands cost $70,000. It is estimated that the building when mpleted will cost $170,000. Immediately after the destruction of the Brannan Street Hospi- l, the sum of $45,000 was raised by subscription to make good the loss. During the coming ar the managers propose to raise additional funds for the requirements of the new ilding.

The plantation l out in two-acre plats, with gravelled roads between each plat, to prevent dust, each f the roads being lined with shade and fruit trees. Amount of tobacco raised in 1875 estimated at seven hundred and fifty thousand pounds. The tobacco used in manufac- g cigars is all raised from imported Havana seed. The tobacco crop for the past year, ver, proved almost an entire failure, which accounts, in part, for the large decrease. Besides these stablishment has successfully accomplished the manufacture of an aggregate length of rd of fifty miles of submarine telegraph cable for various lines in the vicinity of Puget d and Vancouver's Island. The entire success of these experiments encourages the pro- or in the confident prediction that his establishment will, ere long, manufacture the noth Pacific Submarine Telegraph Cable, which will furnish the last and grandest link e telegraphic circuit of the world, by connecting California with Japan and China. The rope in use by the Clay Street Hill and California Street Railroads, aggregating a length enty-nine thousand feet, was made at these works.

The Pioneer Woolen Mills at Black originally erected in 1858, were the first to attempt to create a local industry from the as now, increasing wool clip of the State, which, up to 1859, the year in which Pioneer Mills commenced running, had been shipped abroad to find a market. The ss of the enterprise having received a practical demonstration, the Pioneer Mills were ved, in 1861, by the Mission Woolen Mills, located on Folsom Street, between Fif- h and Sixteenth. These were followed at a later date by the Pacific Woolen Mills, ocated on Folsom Street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, which have since been con- ated with the Mission Woolen Mills, The product of these mills comprises broad cloths, ls, cassimeres, heavy army and navy blankets, shawls, cloakings, and flannels, of superior ty and finish, and hosiery. The blankets manufactured at the Mission Woolen Mills a world-wide reputation, and cannot be equaled upon this continent.

ccording to the foregoing statistics, there are twenty-eight thousand and twenty-seven per- employed in productive industries. There are continually springing into existence small lishments employing a few persons, and it is obvious that the most thorough enumeration can be made will fall considerably short of the truth. There is scarcely an article known nmerce that is not manufactured in San Francisco. The restless energy of her people pts them to the boldest experiments, and every few months it is demonstrated that some prise that had been experimental has become a permanent success.

mining companies contributed $23,971,600, of which the Consolidated Virginia paid $8,064,000 and the California, $12,096,000.

Total assessments returned delinquent to stock boards for the year on mining stocks $11,598,000, being slightly lower than the amounts of the two preceding years. The amount of stock forfeited for non-payment of assessments did not exceed that of the previous year. The Nevada Bank marked its entry into the year 1877 with an increase of capital from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Since the 1st day of July, 1877, many important changes and developments have occurred in our financial institutions, chief among which may be noted the withdrawal from business of the Merchants' Exchange, the Swiss-American Bank, and the Bank of San Francisco; the failure of the Pioneer Savings Bank, coupled with the flight of Duncan and Le Warne, its secretary and cashier, leaving deficit of about $1,000,000; this being followed in turn by the Fidelity Savings, Market Street Savings, and the Cosmopolitan Dime Savings banks, and the two Collateral Loan associations, and the suspension of Messrs. Hickox & Spear, one of our oldest private banking houses. A gratifying feature of the financial year, however, has been the resumption of dividends by the Bank of California and the National Gold Bank and Trust Company.

During the past year the operations of the San Francisco Clearing House represent a total of $519,948,700; $497,407,500 being for gold, and $22,541,200 silver exchanges.

Insurance.

On January 1, 1877, there were one hundred and one, of which seven are California companies, fire and marine insurance companies transacting business in California, and four life insurance companies carrying on a general business. In addition, six life insurance companies were collecting renewal premiums. Policies of fire and marine insurance to the amount of $309,816,917.86 were written during the year; the premiums received were $5,263,273.53; and the losses paid, $1,433,267.88. The gross amount of risks in force, December 31, 1876, was $217,937,619.68; those of the seven California companies being $18,243,405, or about thirty-six per cent. of the whole. The paid-up cash capital of the California companies is $2,085,000.

Population of San Francisco, February 1, 1878.

The figures contained in the annual tables of the population of this city published in the San rancisco Directory, have been accepted generally, in the absence of an official enumera-on, as a fair estimate of the number of its residents.* In arriving at the results contained erein, the compiler has availed himself of the annual returns of the canvassers employed on is work, and such other reliable data obtainable at the time; included in the latter are the re-rns of the School Census, which, when taken correctly may be regarded as a safe basis to es-nate the progress of the element of the population included therein, and the figures of the ederal Census of 1870. From the material here referred to, the following estimate has been repared, and in directing attention thereto, the compiler begs to state that the aggregates con-ined therein are believed to be a fair approximation to the actual number of the population this city.

Total Population, February 1, 1878		308,215

The estimate of the males over twenty-one in the preceding table is based upon the aggregate of mes contained in the present volume, as follows: The number of references in the register of mes is 105,190, of which 99,250 are male residents of this city. These figures are exclusive of merous lists of names included in the Business Directory and the Appendix, containing the mes of officers of societies, incorporations, etc., not obtained in the regular canvass, estimated 500, making a total of 99,750. The two latter named departments of the Directory are mpiled from information collected just previous to the publication of the work, and include any names not to be found in the regular list.

The number of females over eighteen is estimated at 58,590, upon the basis of the Federal ensus of 1870. The number of females of all ages enumerated, as published in this city, nounts to 61,577, of which 23,261 are under fifteen years. According to the average of the ensus throughout the United States, about sixteen per cent of the number under fifteen ,721) should be added thereto to represent the element between fifteen and eighteen, inclu-ve, which would give an average as follows: Under eighteen, 26,982; eighteen and over, ,595, as the number of July, 1870. The difference between the last-named figures (34,595) d those included in the table (58,590), amounting to 23,995, will not be considered an over-timate for the increase since August, 1870. Estimated increase for the year ending February , 1875, 4,900; for 1876, 5,280; for 1877, 5,200; and for the eleven months ending January , 1878, 4,110. Of this number about 2,750 are by natural increase, and the remainder (1,360), om immigration.

The estimates of males under twenty-one, and the females under eighteen, are based upon e returns of the School Census, June 30, 1877. According to the figures referred to, the gregate of children of both sexes of sixteen years and under is 80,245, an increase from 77 of 8,809, or over ten per cent. for the year. If the increase from June 30, 1877, to

* An estimate of the population of this city, copied from the so-called "opposition directory" for 1877, having en published, the compiler of the San Francisco Directory deems it his duty to call attention to the character and liability of the data upon which its figures are based. In the issue of the work referred to, for 1876 (page 9), the mber of references contained therein is stated to be 102,610; and, in the volume for 1877 (page 37), an increase er the number in the previous issue is claimed of 6,220. These amounts aggregate 108,830, as the number of erences in the volume for 1877. When the fact is stated that an actual count shows that the real number is ,638, only 17,192 less than what is claimed, the public will be able to place a proper value upon any estimate of population from that source. Another estimate of the population of this city, for 1878, has been published by same authority which gives the number at 326,244, based on 98,031 (?) references, contained in their issue for 1878. the figures of 1877, previously referred to, are correct, 295,117 population on 108,830 references, on what basis is estimate of 1878 arrived at, viz.: a population of 326,700 on 98,031 references. These facts place the publication question in the dilemma of having either attempted to justify the magnified figures of 1877, or having used a ger pro rata to sustain a defective canvass in 1878.

The estimate of the number of Chinese, thirty thousand (of which two thousand two hundred are women, and one thousand five hundred children), is based upon the judgment o reliable authorities who are familiar with that element of our population. During the past year, owing to local causes, this element in our population has decreased, it is estimated, seven per cent. According to the U. S. census, 1870, there were twelve thousand and eighteen Chinese of all ages residing in this city, of whom it was estimated that seven thousand were engaged in the different departments of labor. At the present date reliable data place the number, including domestics, at eighteen thousand, which, if correct, fully warrants the figures in the above table. The numbers of Chinese conducting business in this city, on their own account, is nine hundred and fifty, of which over four hundred are engaged in the laundry business. About two hundred establishments, of which over one-half are owned by Chinese, are engaged in the manufacture of cigars. The number of Chinese employed therein is estimated at four thousand. The returns of the six Chinese Companies in San Francisco show that there are in the United States 155,000 Chinese, of which 60,000 are in the State of California.

The remainder of the data in our estimate explains itself, and to those who are acquainted with the different elements referred to therein, the figures will not be considered over-estimated.

The aggregate of the present year (308,215), as compared with that of last year (301,020), exhibits a gain of 7,195, or 2.35 per cent., a much smaller increase than that of former years, this may be accounted for as the result of the general depression of our commercial and mining interests, and the comparative failure of our last year's crops. A slight decrease will be noted in our table of adult male population, but the adult females have increased in numbers seven and a half per cent., and the males and females under twenty-one and eighteen, respectively, about eight per cent.

Meteorological Observations made at San Francisco, from November, 1850, to January, 1878

BY HENRY GIBBONS, M.D.

In the following tables the reader will find, in a condensed form, the results of twenty-seven years' diligent observation of the climate of San Francisco, with more particular reference to rain.

Rain has fallen in every month of the year. In July it has rained only in one year; August has furnished rain in four years; June in eight years; September in twelve years; October in sixteen years. No account is made of a mere sprinkle, nor of the deposit of summer mist. The greatest quantity of mist which ever falls in twenty-four hours is about three hundredths of an inch. But this quantity is very rare. Near the ocean the mist is much more copious.

The driest season was 1850–51, which gave only seven inches. Next to that was 1863–64, with eight and one half inches. The winter of 1867–68 gave the most rain—forty inches. The average is between twenty-one and twenty-two inches.

The earliest setting in of the rainy season was October 8; the latest, January 12. An early beginning and an abundant supply are apt to go together, but there is no rule in this respect—the latest beginnings have been followed by an average supply.

The average date of the beginning of the rainy season is November 28; of the termination, April 10. March is as certain to bring rain in liberal amount as any other month. In one year out of every three there is no rain of importance after March. The last showers of the season come, with remarkable uniformity, about the third week of May.

The middle of January is the average dividing point of the rainy season. The mean quantity before January 1 is about equal to the mean quantity after January 31.

December gives the greatest average quantity; January is not far behind; February, March and November come next, and are nearly alike; then April, May, and October, in the order named.

The greatest amount of rain in any one month was in January, 1862, when there fell the enormous quantity of eighteen inches.

The most extraordinary summer rain was in June, 1875, when 1.11 inches fell during a southerly storm which lasted several days. That this was an anomaly is made apparent by the fact that in the three summer months during twenty-seven years the whole quantity of rain, collectively, deducting this, was only 1.9 inches.

It is worthy of note that in the driest seasons there has been an abundant supply for agricultural purposes, had it been distributed evenly. Three inches in December, with one inch in each of the four following months, would produce full crops.

The rain table of San Francisco may be made the basis for estimating the fall in other parts of the State. The mountains of the north have from two to three times as much, and the southern section of the State about half as much, or even less in some localities. The valley of the Sacramento has nearly the same quantity as San Francisco; that of the San Joaquin one fourth or one third less, the quantity diminishing southward.

VAN SCHAACK & CO., 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, and 716 Kearny, Established 1862.

By reference to the tables showing the extremes of heat and cold, it appears that the coldest ather was in January, 1854, when the mercury fell to 25°. At that time the mud in the ects was frozen solid, and the shallow ponds were covered with ice strong enough for boys to ıte on. But such weather is extremely rare, though since that time the ground has been ozen several times so as not to thaw fully in the shade for several days. The coldest noonday dbraced in the record was 37°. Often the entire winter passes by without bringing the ther- ometer so low as the freezing point. In 1853 it fell at no time below 40°.

The extreme of heat was on the tenth and eleventh of September, 1852, when the thermom- er reached 97° and 98° on the two days, respectively. This, however, was entirely excep- nal, and might not occur again in half a century; the air was dry as a sirocco, and caused e woodwork of houses to crackle and the plaster to break on the wooden walls.

With the exception just noted, the hottest day was June 11, 1877—94°. Next come July 1867, and June 12, 1876—93°. The temperature reached 91° on six days, viz: Once in Octo- r, 1864, once in September, 1865, once in June, 1872, once in June, 1877, and twice in Sep- mber, 1877. In July, 1865, it was 90°. It appears therefore, that there were but twelve ys in twenty-seven years, when the temperature reached 90°.

The table of mean temperature shows that our summer does not come till the summer months ve passed by. September is the warmest month in the year, and October next; then comes igust; July, the hottest month elsewhere, is the fourth here, or links with June; next come ril and May; then March and November; then February, and, finally, January and Decem- r, which are the only winter months, if indeed we have any weather that deserves the name winter.

Twice the ground has been covered with snow. On the twenty-ninth of December, 1856, it owed very fast for several hours, and two or three inches gathered, but it melted before night. the twelfth of January, 1868, it snowed fast before day, so that two inches collected. But disappeared before sunrise, so that few persons enjoyed the rare spectacle.

The extraordinary evenness of the climate depends on the adjacent ocean, the water of which, wing in a current from the north, is always at a temperature of about 52°, summer and nter. The sea breeze of summer, which chills the air at noonday, leaves no place for hot ghts. There is not, on an average, one night in the year when it is warm enough to sit out doors at midnight with comfort.

JBLIC STREETS, AVENUES, SQUARES, PLACES,

OF THE CONSOLIDATED

CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO,*

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE OFFICIAL MAPS, 1868, 1870, AND 1872.

EXPLANATORY.—The Ordinance for re-numbering the buildings of this city provides that "Market Street shall be the ing point for the numbers of all buildings fronting on the streets running therefrom in a northerly direction and also hose running therefrom in a southeasterly direction. The streets laid down in the official map of the city as forming vater front thereof shall be the starting point for numbers on all streets running westerly and southwesterly there- , except upon such streets running westerly commencing from Market Street, and upon all such streets, Market Street be the starting point for numbers. On all streets the numbers on the right hand side, starting from the point of nning, are even numbers, and on the left hand side, odd numbers. One hundred numbers, or as many thereof as may ecessary, shall be allotted to each block bounded by principal streets; numbers 100, 200, and 300 being respectively the bers for commencing the blocks distant one, two, and three streets from the starting point on the side designated for numbers, and numbers 101, 201, and 301, in similar manner for the opposite side of the street, throughout its extent; at the initial figure of the number placed on a building at any street-crossing shall indicate the number of main ts such street-crossing is from the starting point. Not less than twenty feet in frontage of all vacant lots of ground be allowed for each number. On all cross or intermediate streets the numbering shall commence where said streets , and shall conform to the plan specified in this Order."

By this new decimal system of numbering buildings, the exact location of any number is readily ascertained; for nple, if you want to find 624 Montgomery, it is on the east side of the block extending from Clay to Washington, which e seventh from Market—Commercial and Merchant being private streets. Again: 825 Clay is on the ninth block the water front, which is the one extending from Dupont to Stockton. It must be borne in mind that one hundred bers are allowed on each block between principal streets.

Several of the principal streets have been erroneously numbered. Bryant, Greenwich, Lombard, and Vallejo each vary nundred from the official map, which has been strictly adhered to in the compilation of the present Street Directory. very instance where an incorrect number has been used, the correct one has been included in the canvass. To prevent usion the wrong number has been added and enclosed in a parenthesis, thus (1706). The following streets are but ally opened, and each differ materially from the plan originally laid out, viz: Clementina, Ecker, Jessie, Minna, oma, Ritch, Shipley, Stevenson, and Tehama.

The principal streets southeast of Market, and running parallel to Fifth, have been, by an Ordinance of the city, ged, and they are to be designated hereafter numerically, as follows: Simmons to be Sixth, Harris as Seventh, Price ghth, Johnston as Ninth, and so on as far as such parallel streets continue.

The territory lying west of Laurel Hill and Odd Fellows' cemeteries, and generally known as the Outside Lands, has recently surveyed, and is designated on the new official City and County Map as avenues and streets. Those running n and south are named respectively from First to Forty-ninth avenues, and those running east and west, from First nue to the Ocean, and parallel with Point Lobos Avenue, A to W streets. There are a few avenues and streets out- of the boundaries of the foregoing, the names of which will be found included in the Street Directory.

Reference is frequently made in the Register of Names to the following, and which are located as follows: Hoadley's ition, situated west of Pierce and between Geary and Washington; Horner's Addition, south and near the Mission res; Western Addition, west of Larkin; San Miguel Ranch, southwest and near the Mission Dolores: Bernal Heights H.), south of Twenty-sixth Street, between San Bruno and San José roads; and University Mound Tract (U. M. T.), of San Bruno Road, five miles from the City Hall. See, also, Prominent Places, end Street Directory.
